

Adults can learn from Boy Scout, 13

Norman Scanlon, 13, a seventh grader at Romulus North Junior High School, takes his boy scout pledge seriously.

When he recited the part about rendering a service to the community at large, in addition to helping individuals, he decided to do something to improve his neighborhood, and at the same time earn a life scout award.

He contacted area nurserymen and local farm markets and received 35 yards of sod, a birth tree and several flats of flowers to plant in the street median in front of his home at 15868 Orchard in Romulus.

Then, with the help of his father, Marvin, who is also the scout master of Troop 922, he meticulously prepared the plot and sodded and planted the assorted greenery.

Now, the little cul-de-sac is one of the prettiest in the neighborhood and his efforts have fostered an attitude of pride among his neighbors.

When asked why he chose this project, his answer was simple, "It needed done."

Norman and other Romulus citizens who perform community or private beautification projects similar to this are eligible for a newly-inaugurated standard of excellence certificate to be awarded each month by the Romulus Beautification Committee.

Anyone knowing of an individual or business who has taken steps to improve their living area is invited to contact the Beautification Committee with their nomination at 941-0666, extension 20. Winners will be announced monthly in this paper.

Committee seeks political sign ban

Political signs, which bloom bi-annually in July in all sizes, shapes and colors in yards and fields throughout the City of Romulus, may become a thing of the past.

A resolution submitted by the Romulus Beautification Committee to the City Council last week calls for the repeal of a city ordinance allowing political advertisements.

The resolution, which was passed unanimously by the Beautification Committee, cites scenic disruption to the community, litter produced, cleanup costs, prohibitive costs to candidates, and the "ill will engendered between neighbors" as reasons for its decision.

The committee, which was appointed over a year ago by Mayor William M. Oakley, also cited their bylaws which recommended "pursuing programs designed to enhance the aesthetic quality and harmonious atmosphere throughout the city," as further reasons for the resolution.

Mayor Oakley said in presenting the resolution to council, "I believe that this addresses an issue of sufficient merit to warrant your attention and comments and should be forwarded to the city attorney, Chuck Lowther, for his review."

The council heard a preliminary opinion and then voted to follow the mayor's recommendation and refer the matter to the attorney who will report back at the next meeting.

The next regular meeting of the city council is Tuesday, June 26, 1979, at 8 p.m.

'Major effort to unseat Oakley'

Morgan files for mayor; vows clean campaign

By BOB AMEEN
ANP Staff Writer

Terming his campaign a "major effort to unseat Mayor Oakley", Mel Morgan, well-known Romulus businessman and developer, has filed for the office of mayor.

A lifetime resident of the city, Morgan, 46, joins five other candidates who filed last week for nomination in the mayor's primary race next Sept. 10.

He charged, "The mayor doesn't know where we've been, where we're at, or where we're going."

Claiming that Romulus is "in a state of stagnation", Morgan said Oakley has no definite objectives designed to push the city forward.

"One of my goals will be to have a real open door to the mayor's office for residents of the community. In conjunction with that policy, I would have all departments in city hall open until 8 p.m. one night every week so citizens can conveniently take care of their business with the city," he explained.

Morgan said he subscribed to the recent call by the Roman for a stop to low-level dirty campaigning which earned Romulus the name of "The Cuckoo's Nest". He said he intends to run a campaign based on issues and not personalities.

Morgan said he will announce his platform and campaign issues soon. A kickoff rally to get his campaign off the ground will be held Friday, June 29, at Progressive Hall from 7:30 p.m. to 1 a.m., he said. Last Wednesday, 86 supporters attended his announcement meeting, including ex-elected officials and business people.

Active in community and civic affairs for many years, he served as co-chairman of the local fight against reassessment of personal property in Romulus last year. In 1970, he waged the successful battle to have Romulus become a city.

Over the years, Morgan has supported the Romulus Little League and Romulus Softball Association. He served as chairman of the Light the Way Committee which worked to install the first lighted baseball diamond in the city.

Morgan's other activities include: former member of Romulus

Jaycees, former member of Romulus Rotary Club, member of the 15th District Democrat Party, and a member of the Crisis Club, an organization that assists widows of deceased Detroit policemen.

From 1960-62 and 1962-64, Morgan served two terms in the elected position of city constable.

Morgan currently serves as secretary of the Wayne County Building Authority, which is entrusted with handling millions of dollars in bonding for construction of institutional and governmental buildings.

The authority's most recent achievement was arranging for bonds to build the completed Walter Reuther Health Care Center, a $12 million facility on the grounds of the Wayne County General Hospital.

By throwing his hat into the turbulent Romulus political arena, Morgan joins five other candidates who have taken out filing petitions for the office of mayor. They are: incumbent Mayor William M. Oakley; former Mayor James C. Stewart; Ed Fall, former city building director fired by Oakley; Ed Rush, prominent city florist who sued the city for an alleged violation of the Open Meetings Act by city council; and Robert Plank.

Benefit to aid young

Popular TV personalities Jim Brandstader and Sonny Elliott from WDIV, channel 4, are shown purchasing tickets for the upcoming celebrity softball game from Dennis Davidson, a Romulus city resident and publicity chairman of the Red Wing For 'Em Club. The game, to be held Saturday, June 23, 1979 at 1 p.m. at Elmer Johnson Park, located between I-94 and Wick Road, will feature members of the Red Wings Hockey Club competing against well-known radio and television sports broadcasters. Proceeds from the event will be split between Romulus North Little League, the sports broadcasters scholarship fund and the Red Wing For 'Em Club hockey fund. Tickets are $2 and may be purchased at the gate or from the concession stand at any North Little League game. (Children under 12 will be admitted free, when accompanied by an adult).

Crucial millage decided by few

A mere 7.9 percent of registered voters in the Romulus school district last week spoke for the whole when they sent the 9-mill renewal sought by local public schools down to a crashing defeat.

Termed "crucial" by Supt. James Garfield in maintaining the current quality level of education, the millage proposal was given the axe 640-476 by the 1,116 voters who turned out for the June 11 school election.

According to information supplied by Clerk Leonard J. Folmar, a total of 1,132 voters cast votes in the school election out of a total of approximately 14,300 registered in the school district.

"Naturally, I'm disappointed," said Garfield. "We will have to come back with another millage election sometime before July 1 of 1980."

He explained it would be up to the school board to decide exactly when the next millage election would take place, but guessed it would not be before next spring.

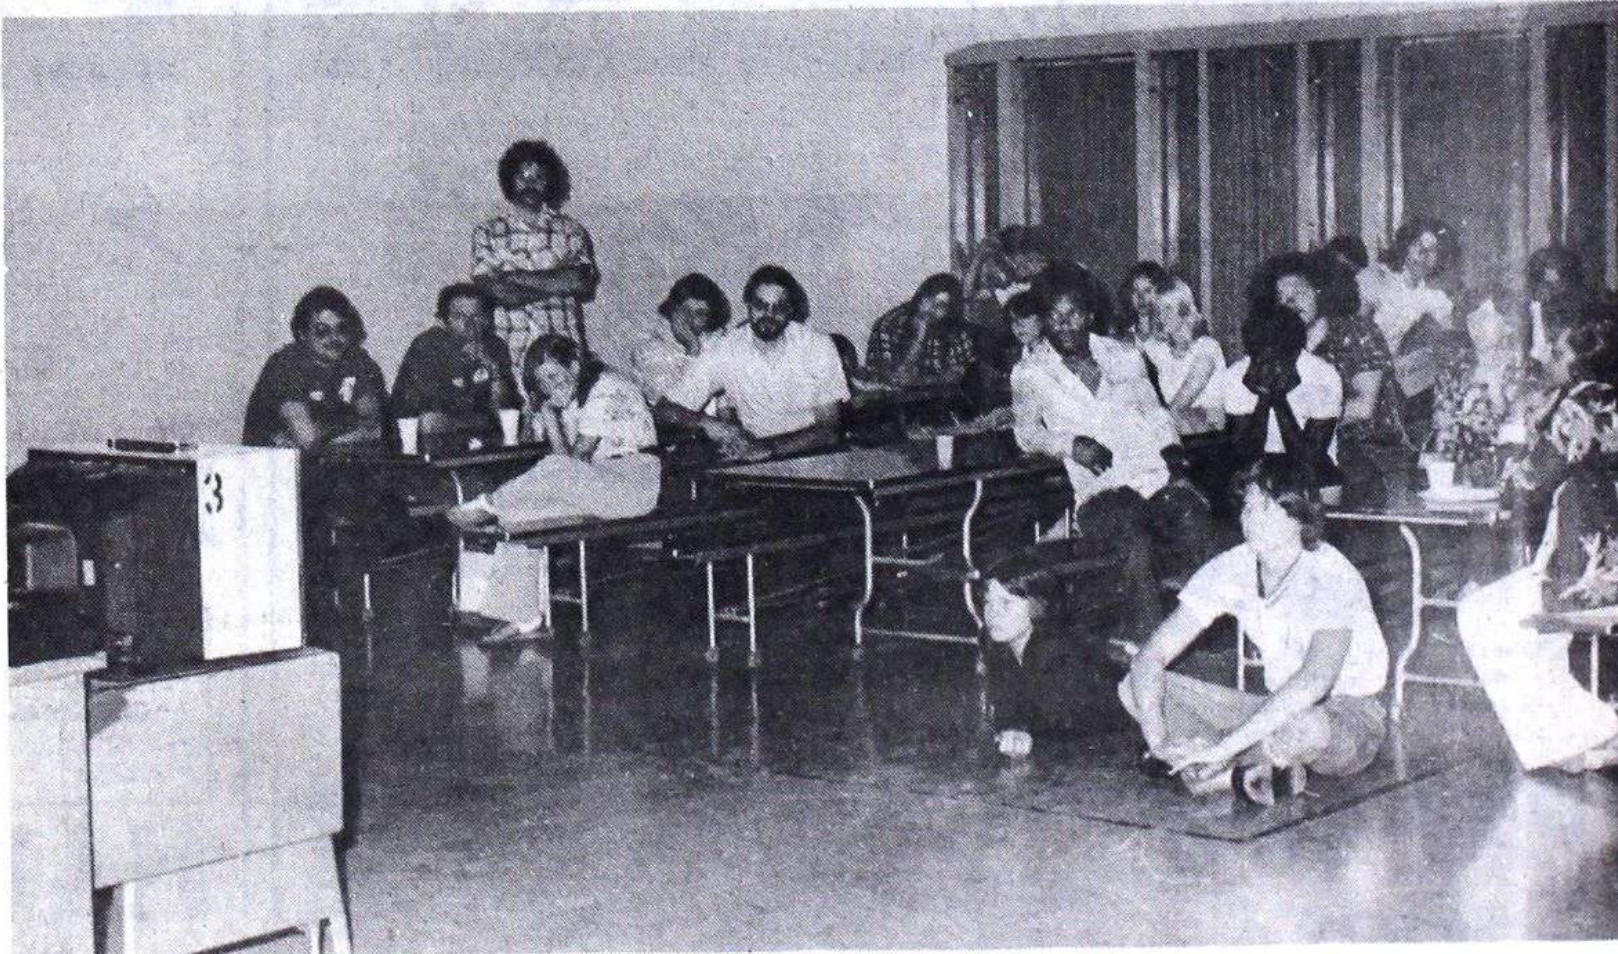

Because Romulus Community

Schools will not feel the effect of the millage defeat financially until after the end of the 1979-80 school year, no cuts in the school educational program will be made now, Garfield said.

The loss of revenue from the 9-mill levy, which amounts to a fourth of the total school taxes, will begin to be noticed with the summer tax collection next year, he said.

School officials and board members are hopeful that last week's rejection of the 9-mill renewal will not prove to be a repetition of the struggle more than a year ago in passing an 8.5-mill levy for additional funds. Voters turned down the proposal five times before it was approved on the sixth try.

Garfield commented that Romulus schools will be worse off should the 9-mill renewal not be approved than three years ago when the school district was a million dollars in the red. Fortunately, the passage of the 8.5-mill additional levy saved the day, he said.

Students view shocker crime film

Some 50 students and parents from the Romulus Alternative Education program watch a presentation of the controversial television documentary, "Scared Straight", shown recently on national public television. The movie, filmed at Rahway State Prison in New Jersey, features a group of prison "lifers" confronting juvenile offenders with the hard realities of prison life, and describing their situation in often shocking terms. A similar program in Michigan called J.O.L.T. (Juvenile Offenders Learn the Truth) has been inaugurated at Jackson State Prison, and will involve juveniles on probation from Wayne County and across the State. The showing last week at Harrison School was arranged by Robert Smith, director of Wayne County's J.O.L.T. program and members of the Wayne County Sheriff's Department, including John Lewis and Jerry Billiter. Other segments of the program include counseling and intensive follow-up of the young people who participate in the program.

Proposed by Governor

Bullard denounces cuts in heating assistance

A liberal state lawmaker has joined the list of Democrats denouncing Gov. William Milliken's plan to cut off home heating allowance for low-income citizens. But, unlike other Milliken critics, State Rep. Perry Bullard of Ann Arbor has come up with a way to get the money (about $33 million) needed to keep the popular program alive.

Bullard said a plan to place new taxes on oil companies he announced several weeks ago will now be shifted toward funding the home heating program. If fully implemented, the Bullard plan also would provide enough money for an alternative energy development fund and for a home weatherization program.

"The Governor's plan to eliminate the home heating assistance program comes as a cruel blow to many Michigan residents," Bullard said. "If this program is not revived, thousands of low-income and elderly Michigan residents will suffer immeasurably in the coming winter."

"I was amazed that Governor Milliken ever proposed to eliminate these funds. It's really heartless," Bullard said the bulk of the money from his oil tax plan would come from an increase in the severance tax. This tax, currently set at just 2 percent, is levied on oil and gas producers on the value of their product at the actual site of production.

"The current severance tax rate of 2 percent is extremely low compared with other states and with oil company profits," Bullard said. "With the new crisis in the home-heating assistance program, that rate should be raised to 8 or 10 percent. A 10 percent severance rate would bring in about $40 million in new revenues," said the Democratic lawmaker, "enough to maintain the heating assistance program, give a shot in the arm to home weatherization, and have money left over for solar and wind energy projects."

State funds for low-income weatherization programs have been noticeably absent in previous years. For fiscal year 1980, the Governor's budget includes only $4 million in state funds for weatherization.

"Energy cost assistance is essential, but we cannot continue to spend millions to heat energy-inefficient homes without putting some state commitment toward weatherizing those homes," said Bullard. "We find ourselves in the embarrassing position of allocating close to $38 million in each of the last two years for low-income home heating relief without spending a dime of state funds for weatherization. We need an aggressive state weatherization program, and we need it now."

Bullard pointed out that an increase in the severance tax would have little impact on prices in Michigan because so little of the oil produced in the state is sold here. One feature of his proposal will prohibit oil and gas companies from passing the tax increases on to consumers.

The second proposal in Bullard's oil tax plan would be the establishment of a state "windfall profits tax". Such a tax would be based on the difference between the value of gas and oil today and the new gas and oil prices established under federal oil and gas price deregulation. President Carter has made a windfall profits tax a cornerstone of his plan to deregulate oil prices, but many Washington observers say the tax has little chance of passage.

Bullard said he would like to see a windfall tax rate of from 50 to 80 percent, but said that the exact amount of the tax could be adjusted to take into consideration any federal action, or action on his other oil proposals.

The third proposal in Bullard's oil plan would be an increase in the royalty rate which the state charges to private companies which produce gas and oil on public land. The current royalty rate is 12.5 percent on the value of the gas or oil at the wellhead. Bullard, who said the present rate has "no logical basis at all", noted that Michigan's current royalty rate was established in accordance with legislation passed in 1909. His proposal would place the royalty rate at 25 percent.

"Our society is experiencing an extremely painful transition from a time when energy was cheap and abundant to a time when energy costs are going up and up while supplies diminish," Bullard said. "We must recognize that the burden of this transition falls most heavily upon those who can least afford it — the poor, the elderly, and others on fixed incomes. We must use the revenues that would be created under my proposals in order to make this difficult transition as fair as possible."

Bullard said that his oil plan-energy-relief package involves three separate pieces of legislation that he would push as an integrated package.

"Obviously," he said, "the three proposals are interdependent. If we establish a fairly high windfall profits tax, then the increases in severance taxes and royalties might be kept fairly small. We'll also have to make adjustments for any federal action."

MSU hosts 4-H Days

Young people from throughout Michigan will be able to observe firsthand the day-to-day activities of state officials in a program offered by the Michigan 4-H Program.

Exploring Michigan government is one of 182 action-learning options open to Michigan youth during 4-H Exploration Days, June 21-23, at Michigan State University.

"It is important for kids to get a feeling for state, local and county governments, because in school they are bombarded almost exclusively with information about the federal government," said Dyle Henning, Lenawee County Extension 4-H youth agent and coordinator of the program.

A workshop Thursday will emphasize the importance of community government. Henning will explain the importance of local citizens becoming involved in community activities and how they can help shape their community's future.

Participants will spend Friday in the state capitol, visiting legislators from their home districts and observing the legislature in action.

After a tour of the capitol, teams of two will visit various state department offices and find out what stand each department is taking on a particular issue. They will share the information they obtain with the entire group.

"The option is an attempt to make the kids more aware of the influence local and county governments have on their lives," Henning said.

Exploration Days concludes with 4-H Action Day Saturday sponsored by the Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service 4-H Youth Program. The event features activities ranging from demonstrations on tuning car engines and learning veterinary first aid to decorating Ukrainian Easter eggs and running in a 2,000-meter minimarathon.

The event is open to the public from 9 to 11:30 a.m. at no charge. Action Day will be held in MSU's Spartan Stadium.

News photos now available

Hardly a day has gone by that we at Associated Newspapers haven't received a request from a reader about a picture which appeared in one of our six publications.

While past policy has prevented us from releasing pictures to the public until a year after their publication, we now are opening up our files to our readers.

Starting this month we are releasing pictures on request for a small charge. Prints used in the newspaper will be available for $2.50 each. Reprints will cost $4 each.

We feel this change in policy will better accommodate you, our readers, and do away with an unnecessary delay. However, we do retain the right to keep pictures that may be used again at a later date. In those instances, reprints will be offered, rather than the original.

So, the next time you see a photograph you'd like to have, don't say "Boy I wish I could get that picture." Give us a call at 729-4000. Our pictures can be your pictures.

All pictures will be kept on file one year, during which time they will be available.

In brief

Benefit game slated

The fourth annual muscular dystrophy benefit softball game, which pits city hall employees against elected officials and administrators will take place June 20, (today) 1979 at 7:15 p.m. at Elmer Johnson Park, located on Ozga Road between I-94 and Wick roads in Romulus.

The classic confrontation provides spectators with ample opportunity to cheer on their political and non-political favorites and make a valuable contribution to help fight the crippling effects of the disease. Tim Tomasik, a 17-year-old, straight "A" student afflicted with the disease, will throw out the first ball to Romulus Mayor William M. Oakley. Admittance to the game is free, but Romulus volunteer firemen will collect donations from those attending.

All funds received will be distributed locally, according to Jo Lynn DeBuyscher, co-organizer of the event.

CPR classes offered

The Romulus Fire Department is offering a free CPR (Cardio-pulmonary resuscitation) class to Romulus residents on Thursdays, June 21, and 28 at 10 a.m. and 7 p.m. at Romulus Fire Station No. 4, 28777 Eureka Rd., Romulus.

Individuals need take only one two-hour class to qualify for a Michigan State CPR card, but must sign up in advance by calling 941-0666, extension 51 or 52.

Trash bags for sale

Due to popular demand, the extra-thick, extra-strong outdoor trash bags, offered for sale by the Romulus Beautification Committee during the recently-completed spring cleanup campaign, are again available to the public at Romulus City Hall. The price for a box of 100 printed bags with ties, is $8.50. They will be sold from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday at the city hall information desk. Call 941-0666 to reserve your box.

Building permits hit 98

A total of 98 permits were issued in May by the Romulus Building Department for construction amounting to $2,942,452, according to George R. Bingham, city engineer.

A breakdown of permits showed: 18 — single-family residences; three — demolished buildings; 13 — garages and carports; six — commercial buildings; three — signs; four — fences.

Two similar industrial buildings costing $398,920 each will be built by the Highland Industrial Development Co. of Southfield on Highland Road between Wick and Hildebrandt roads.

A sum of $1,118,000 will be spent by the Wayne County Road Commission for the expansion of gates and terminal at Detroit Metro Airport's L.C. Smith Terminal.

City to spend $1,000

Fireworks display to cap Romulus Fourth of July

A spectacular fireworks display on the 4th of July is in store for Romulus city residents, following a decision by the city council last week to authorize the mayor to spend up to $1,000 for the occasion.

The fireworks display will cap a full day of special activities, beginning at noon with an Independence Day parade starting at city hall and proceeding down

Goddard Road to Kennedy Park.

Organizers of the parade predict many interesting and varied entries this year, including floats sponsored by the city, Romulus Chamber of Commerce, Downtown Businessman's Association, Beautification Committee and the combined Neighborhood Watch groups.

No parade would be complete without a band, and the Romulus Bicentennial Band, under the direction of Richard Kruse, will be on hand to provide the music.

In addition, old cars, a balloon man, motorcycles, fire engines, shiny new police cars, funny clowns and lots of horses will also be entered.

Following the parade, residents are encouraged to adjourn to Elmer Johnson Park, located on Ozga Road, between I-94 and Wick Road, for an afternoon of picnicking and softball.

The fireworks will begin after dark at the park. Because of the crowd expected at the park, the North Junior High and Wick Elementary schools' parking lots will be open for viewing and additional parking.

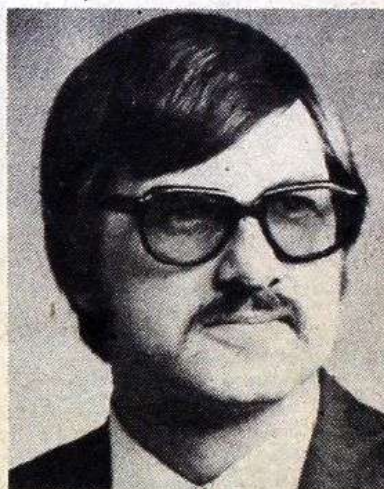

Any individual, group or organization wishing to participate in the parade is invited to do so by registering with the city at 941-0666, extension 20 and 67.

Honored by Romulus chamber

Ordained

Candidate Michael Charles Dusek, a native of Chicago, will be ordained and installed as the new pastor of Amazing Grace Evangelical Lutheran Church, 16750 Beech Daly, Taylor, in a special service at 4 p.m. Sunday, June 24. The Ladies of Amazing Grace will serve a welcoming luncheon for Pastor Dusek and his family, members of the congregation, guests, and visitors immediately following the service of ordination—installation. Amazing Grace Evangelical Lutheran Church is five years old and a member of the Wisconsin Evangelical Lutheran Synod.

Student-built house for sale

A provincial styled ranch house built by students in the Romulus Community Schools building trades class will be featured in an open house Sunday, June 24, from 1 to 5 p.m. at 37575 Tyler Road, just west of Ozga Road in Romulus. Measuring 1,630 square feet in area, the house has three bedrooms and two full baths. This is the fourth house built for sale to the public by senior students at Romulus High School. Bid information will be available at the open house.

3 Bedrooms, 2 baths

Seniors build ranch house

The 1979 Romulus Community Schools building trades program, project house is nearing completion and will be open for public inspection Sunday, June 24 from 1 p.m. until 5 p.m. Located at 37575 Tyler Rd., just west of Ozga Road in Romulus, the house was built by senior students enrolled in the building trades program.

The house is 1,630 square feet provincial styled ranch with three bedrooms and two full baths. The master bedroom has its own bath with shower. In addition to the formal dining and living room, there is a large family room with beamed ceiling and brick, walled fireplace.

The kitchen features furniture-finish wood cabinets with a double-sided peninsula snack bar. Garbage disposal is included in the double compartmented sink and provisions are made for a dishwasher. The exterior features brick on three sides with an attractive combination of stained wood siding and trim. There is a wood deck accessible from the family room through a glass door wall.

Fuel savings should be realized in the house because of the 3½"-thick fiberglass insulated side walls and 6" insulation in the ceiling. In addition, quality wood double-pane insulated windows and foam core steel exterior doors will add to the efficiency of the gas, forced-air heating system.

The large full basement, finished attached garage, first floor laundry, ceramic tile floors in the entry and baths with no-wax vinyl in the kitchen and other non-carpeted areas, adds to the value and the beauty of the home.

Bid information will be available at the open house. This is the fourth house that the Romulus Senior High School students have constructed through the vocational building trades program. The other houses built, starting with last year's are located on: 37625 Tyler Rd., 37665 Tyler Rd., 37735 Tyler Rd., and 9650 Ozga Rd.

Cycle racing returns to area

Professional motorcycle racing returns to Northville Downs Saturday at 7 p.m. with Jay Springsteen of Lapeer, the defending AMA National Champion, making his first racing appearance in Michigan since becoming champion three years ago.

"Springer" has earned over $750,000 since turning pro at age 16...he's now 22. His stiffest competition will come from fellow Michigan riders on the million dollar Winston Pro Tour.

Michigan racers have won the last four Grand Nationals in California, Maryland, Kentucky and New York. They captured place and show positions in all but one race where Hank Scott of Chicago took second. No single state has so dominated the dirt track sport in the AMA's 50 year history.

Over 100 novice, junior and expert riders from 10 states and Canada will compete Saturday. Doors open at 4 p.m. for practice, time trials are at 5:45 p.m., and races at 7 p.m. Advance tickets are $7 at Hudsons, $8 on race day. Under 12 tickets are $3.50 anytime. General admission to all areas except pits includes a free 64-page race program.

McDonald's opens near Romulus

A new McDonald's restaurant opened last week at 26730 Eureka Rd. in Taylor just across the boundary line from Romulus. Shown just after cutting a ribbon of $2 bills inaugurating the restaurant's opening is Richard Thompson (right), director of planning for the city of Taylor, while Bruce Smith, supervisor for the McDonald chain, looks on. Boasting a train for children to enjoy, named the "Taylor Express", the new eating spot joins McDonald's international family of more than 5,000 locations. The $200 in $2 bills which made up the ribbon will be donated to the Taylor Police Department.

Real life 'Monopoly' game

Promoter hopes drive-in concert will get him past 'Go'

By CARRIE YOUNG
ANP Staff Writer

It's a real-life game of "Monopoly" for Bob Gainer, president of Gainer Productions. But the Westland-based, self-described promoter, producer, manager admits that for the past 11 years he's been stalled on start.

June 2, however, with the assistance of Martin Shafer, owner of the State Wayne Theater, Wayne Drive-In, Algiers, Ecorse, Quo Vadis and the La Parisien, Gainer thinks the dice will roll success, possibly bringing him around "go."

On that date at 7 p.m., the Ecorse Drive-In Theater should manifest a first-of-its-kind entertainment show — live rock-n-roll entertainment coupled with two motion pictures, all for the price of $3.50.

Similarly, that evening could be a first-of-a-kind success for Gainer who's running string of not-so-successful business ventures is beginning to take its toll on the 29-year-old perineal curtain raiser.

Yet in the eyes of local entertainment entrepreneurs, Gainer, interestingly enough, still is considered to be a young, upstart promoter with good potential for eventually promoting a crowd-pleasing success. To be sure, Gainer is wealthy with grand schemes and infinite ideas to sell. And he has the innate ability to sell.

But deliverance is another story. Even so, Gainer believes in his latest brainstorm. It is termed as the "can't-go-wrong" event by Gainer, who quickly conditions that assertion by adding "as long as we can receive public cooperation and concern."

The show, as well as having to be a crowd pleaser, must also be a Shafer pleaser.

Shafer, with a 40-year reputation as a viable businessman at stake, is primarily concerned with keeping the crowd under control. He insists on no outbreak of physical violence, in order for the show to be expanded through his remaining theaters, and possibly nationwide.

"It's on a trial basis, and I'm giving him a chance because it sounds like a very good idea in theory. It could turn out to be something really great for everyone involved. But I've got to see it first," said Shafer.

"Anything is possible I say...ever since the Wright Brothers learned how to fly an airplane," Shafer said. Gainer thinks it can be done.

Thus far, Western Wayne County has been inundated with more than 8,000 varied promotional fliers.

Fliers, however, will not suffice unless entertainment is top quality, said Gainer, noting that when he scouted for Detroit talents he kept in mind that the grand opening billing was of critical importance in his make-it-or-break-it scheme.

Teazer, a rock-n-roll concert showband was Gainer's choice as the main attraction. The band has recently wrapped up a tour of Canada and is currently working on an album. It features lead singer Kelly Green formerly of "Frigid Pink", which still is much remembered for its gold hit song "The House of the Rising Sun".

Also featured is drummer Keith Johnstone formerly of "Ted Nugent, and the Amboy Dukes", lead guitarist Rick Young, and Abe White, on bass.

Teazer recently played with Mitch Ryder at a Liberty Park concert in Romulus.

The 'kicker band' will be a local group just beginning to play the Western Wayne County entertainment circuit known as Kikazz.

A fringe benefit to the show, according to Gainer, may be in encouraging young adults to leave the trouble filled Edward Hines Parkway area and, instead, utilize their idle time more constructively.

"This could eliminate much of that bad situation and could be a public service," Gainer speculated.

Public service is of utmost importance to Gainer who two years ago sponsored a benefit rock concert for the late Anthony Taube of Westland, who was afflicted with a disorder in which his breathing had to be maintained by artificial means when he slept.

The benefit, fell short of his expectations.

"It wasn't that I couldn't get a crowd, I just didn't get permission from the City Council to hold it, and there were 5,000 people expected. I admit I goofed," said Gainer.

Even with the benefit having to be canceled and advertisement retractions having to be made, more than 600 people arrived, some from out of state.

Other works of Gainer include promoting the first live entertainment show at the State Wayne Theater, after Shafer closed its doors last year.

He's worked with such bands as "Salem Witchcraft", "Moriah", "The Look", "The Rockets", Michael Quatro, "Stonebridge" and "Nite Crawler", booking at Masonic Auditorium and Detroit-area night clubs.

Specializing in Chuck Barris "Gong Show" type gimmickery, Gainer's off-the-wall projects of the future include promoting a "Dating Game" show in local night clubs or other attention grabbers like having audience members play "Let's Make a Deal" or the "The Price is Right" games. Different?

"That's what it's all about. Something different is what people want and what I want to bring them," Gainer said.

But to play those games, Gainer must first succeed in the real-life game of "Monopoly", the toughest of them all.

'...Something different is what people want...'

Olson reports to Twentynine Pines

Marine Cpl. Clifford J. Olson, the son of Charles and Shirley Olson of Sumpter Road, Belleville, has reported for duty with the 1st Marine Division, Marine Corps Air Combat Center at Twentynine Pines, Calif.

A 1976 graduate of Alma High School in Alma, he joined the Marine Corps in June 1976.

Also in the armed forces: Marine Pfc. Donald M. Falzone, the son of Michael and Josephine Falzone of Willow Road, New Boston, has been promoted to his present rank while serving with the 1st Marine Division, Marine Corps Base, Camp Pendleton, Calif.

He joined the Marine Corps in April 1978.

Navy Seaman Recruit James N. Cox, the son of Larry and Wanda M. Cox of Judo Road, Belleville, has completed recruit training at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill.

During the 8-week training cycle, he studied general military subjects designed to prepare him for further academic and on-the-job training.

Included in his studies were seamanship, close-order drill, Naval history and first aid.

A 1979 graduate of Huron High School in New Boston, he joined the Navy in March 1979.

Cadet Jeffrey W. Fletcher, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Fletcher of Mary Street, Romulus, recently received a Parachutist Badge upon completion of the 3-week airborne course at the U.S. Army Infantry School, Fort Benning, Ga.

During the first week of training, students undergo a rigorous physical training program and receive instruction in the theory of parachuting. The second week they receive practical training by jumping from 34-foot and 250-foot towers. The final week includes five static-line parachute jumps.

Fletcher is a student at Eastern Michigan University in Ypsilanti.

Marine Pfc. Steven W. Sims, the son of LeRoy G. and Jeanette E. Sims of Ozga, Romulus, has reported for duty with 3rd Force Service Support Group, based on Okinawa.

A 1978 graduate of Huron High School, New Boston, he joined the Marine Corps in September 1978.

In Training

Pat Dodge of Belleville (right) recently joined with other Michigan Cancer Foundation volunteers for a regional training seminar at Wyandotte General Hospital. In all 70 volunteers from the West Service Center, Downriver and Monroe units were present. Discussed were mammography, a way of detecting breast cancer, and the expanding role of the service centers in the community. The centers provide free Pap tests, oral screening, breast examinations, ostomy and mastectomy groups, counseling and equipment and dressings. To schedule an examination at the west center, located at 3307 Greenfield Road, Dearborn, call 336-4112 weekdays. Joining Ms. Dodge in surveying a mammogram X-Ray was Hazel Clermont of Detroit.

Continuing ed for RNs

Hospital sponsors health care classes

Two courses in continuing education for nurses on pharmacology will be offered by Health Care Education Programs of America in cooperation with Mt. Carmel Mercy Hospital, beginning June 28 and Aug. 16.

The programs are designed for RNs, LPNs and others in the health care field. The range of topics in Course A includes Behavioral Pharmacology, Anti-

Psychotic Drugs, Anti-Mania Drugs, Anti-Depressant Drugs, Anti-Anxiety Drugs, and Drug Therapy of Sleep Disorders. The range of topics in Course B includes the significance of deviations from normal test values due to disease, age, food and drugs in clinical laboratory tests. Some of the testing which is covered are Thyroid,

Liver, and Renal function tests, Serum electrolytes, Uric acid, and Hematology tests. Further information and application forms are available by calling 357-4747.

These two 5-week evening courses (7 to 9:30 p.m.) will be held in the ground floor auditorium, Mt. Carmel Mercy Hospital, 6071 West Outer Drive, Detroit.

Course A, Drug Therapy of Behavioral Disorders, is scheduled for June 28 through July 26. Course B, The Lab, Drugs and Nursing Implications is scheduled for Aug. 16 through Sept. 13.

Each course is recognized by the Michigan Nurses Association, as approved by the Northeast Regional Accrediting Committee of the American Nurses Association and by the NFLPN.

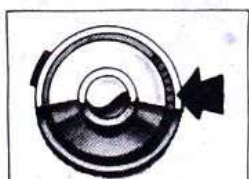

Silva gains honor

DETROIT EDISON OFFERS EIGHT IMPORTANT TIPS TO HELP YOU GET THE MOST OUT OF YOUR AIR CONDITIONER THIS SUMMER.

Fortunately, Detroit Edison customers have plenty of electric power available. Now and in the future. It's the result of planning, development and investment and the fact that over 84 percent of Detroit Edison's power is generated from coal, the nation's most abundant fuel. The balance is generated from other fossil fuels. Even so, none of us should waste energy. So follow these tips and stay cool and comfortable all summer long.

1 Keep your air conditioner on a moderate setting. When leaving home, set the temperature higher.

2 Pull down shades and close draperies to keep out the hot sun.

3 Be careful not to block the flow of cool air.

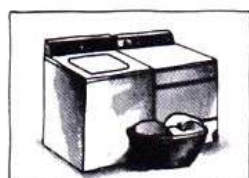

4 Shade windows from outside with ventilated awnings, solar screens, trees or shrubs.

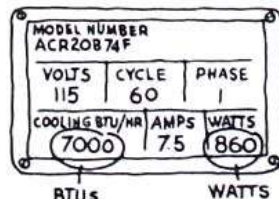

5 Keep air filter, coils, registers and return ducts clean.

6 Cool off hot attic at night with an attic exhaust fan.

7 Use heat and humidity-producing appliances — such as your oven, washer and dryer — early in the morning or in the evening.

8 If you're buying a new air conditioner, you'll save electricity if you select one with an energy efficiency rating (EER) of 8 or higher. The EER is figured by dividing the BTUs by the watts.

Retire park superintendent

Friends gather to honor HCMA's Giblin

During the past weeks friends have been stopping by Lower Huron Metropark near Belleville to extend good wishes to park superintendent George H. Giblin, who retired June 9 after 32½ years of service.

While officially he is George Henry Giblin, Jr., he is best known as just "George Giblin." He started at Kensington Metropark on Aug. 1, 1946, and was soon transferred to the Belleville area.

"Lower Huron Metropark" was just a dream and a plan back in the spring of 1947, when Giblin came down to a 400-acre track of farm land near Huron River Drive and Haggerty Road. He and his small work force worked hard at all kinds of jobs — just to clear the land of brush, fences, dynamite tree stumps and reshape the land to park purposes.

In these early years, Lower Huron had only picnic tables and stoves along the Huron River; but in 1958, a 5-mile stretch of parkway was completed and the swimming pool, bathhouse and food service unit added. It was one of the first swimming pools available to the general public in Western Wayne County and one of the first all-steel pools in Michigan.

Later, other facilities were added, included the 18-hole Par 3 golf course, new picnic areas, shelters, space for baseball or other games, shuffleboard courts, a good-sized tot lot, nature trails, and for a few years, a seasonal nature center.

Giblin pointed out that "recreation often is a family affair." Parents come with children of all ages, tots like a sandbox or play areas, others want to swim, play golf, shuffleboard or just enjoy a picnic.

Giblin has not only seen the growth of Lower Huron Park from 400 to 1,200 acres, but has assisted with the planning and has been directing the operations and maintenance of recently developed Willow and Oakwoods metroparks.

Willow, which opened in the early 1970s and covers 1,711 acres, now resembles a public country club with such attractions as central plaza area, landscaped grounds, and walks leading to the olympic-sized swimming pool, bathhouse, food service, patio, courts for tennis, shuffleboard and basketball and an innovative tot lot and several picnic areas.

Giblin said he is especially pleased with the new outdoor dance center, opening June 28, which will feature square dancing on Fridays, Detroit-name orchestras on Saturdays and disco dancing on Sundays.

Giblin credits the neat, clean, well-maintained and operated metroparks to his talented staff of year-around and seasonal employees.

Well-liked and popular with both his fellow workers and community leaders, Giblin was honored on Feb. 14, 1978, in a special tribute marking his 60th birthday. More than 210 people turned out, including friends, several area officials, and members of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority Board of Commissioners.

In special tribute to his outstanding service to the Huron-Clinton Metropark System, he recently was honored by the HCMA Commission and fellow employees. He was presented with a beautiful tobacco cannister and a couple of new pipes as tokens of appreciation.

Giblin's response to remarks at the time were: "By coming to Huron-Clinton Metroparks, I've been blessed ten-fold. The public wants first-class accommodations in travel and recreation, and that is just what we have been trying to provide. Life as a park superintendent has never been dull and I've enjoyed being outdoors."

He and his wife, Eda, are longtime residents of Belleville. They are parents of two daughters, Elaine and Evelyn.

Our honor

Honored for more than 32½ years of service recently was George H. Giblin (center), park superintendent at Lower Huron Metropark near Belleville. Giblin, who retired June 9, received a tobacco cannister, a gift of appreciation at the special dinner, held in his honor. Along with Giblin were David O. Laidlaw, director (left), and James J. Pompo, deputy director, of the Huron-Clinton metroparks system.

Ford backs bill on synthetic energy

Congressman William D. Ford (D-15th District) has intensified his efforts to help solve the nation's worsening energy crisis.

Ford this week co-sponsored legislation to launch the development of a synthetic energy industry for the United States, using such abundant resources as coal, shale and farm products.

Earlier, Ford had introduced a bill to mandate the Department of Energy to act as the sole purchasing agent for all petroleum and petroleum products imported into the country.

"The rapid rise in gasoline and heating oil prices, and lengthening lines at service stations, indicate that we must take action now," Ford said. "Development of synthetic fuel offers one effective way to break our dependence upon the OPEC nations and become self-reliant for our energy needs."

Hearings on the synthetic fuel bill already have been scheduled for this month by Congressman William S. Moorhead, chairman of the Economic Stabilization Subcommittee and primary sponsor of the bill.

"Our legislation would authorize the President to purchase up to 500,000 barrels a day of synthetic fuel for national defense needs," Congressman Ford explained.

This action will guarantee a market and price levels for synthetic fuels, and should rapidly accelerate the development of a national industry, the Congressman continued.

"We would accomplish this by amending the Defense Production Act, and by setting the 500,000-barrel daily goal by 1985. This is a relatively modest goal, but one which we can certainly achieve."

"In view of the current situation, this nation cannot afford to wait any longer."

Annapolis Hospital blood bank get accreditation

Annapolis Hospital has been awarded a 2-year accreditation by the American Association of Blood Banks (AABB), according to Lawrence T. Riesser, administrator.

Accreditation follows an intensive on-site inspection by specially trained representatives of the association and establishes that the level of medical, technical and administrative performance within the facility meets or exceeds the rigorous standards set by the AABB.

By successfully meeting those requirements, Annapolis Hospital joins more than 2,000 similar facilities across the United States that have earned the accreditation rating and recognition.

Rodrigo Diaz-Perez, MD, chief of pathology, explained: "The AABB's inspection and accreditation procedures are voluntary. It is not legally necessary for a blood bank or transfusion service to be accredited, but like many others, our facility has sought accreditation because it represents a level of professional and medical expertise that meets and exceeds government regulations."

"The primary goal of the program is to assist facilities like ours to achieve excellence, and thus provide higher quality blood, blood products and service to patients."

The standards for blood banks and transfusion services were set by a distinguished panel of experts in the field, composing the AABB Committee on Standards, and are enforced by the AABB National Committee on Inspection and Accreditation. Not only do these standards set the level of professional proficiency for blood banks and transfusion services in the United States, but they provide the basis of practice for similar facilities around the world.

Founded in 1947, the AABB is the only national organization in the United States devoted exclusively to blood banking and blood transfusion services. Its membership of scientists, physicians, nurses, medical technologists and administrators is engaged in all aspects of the field.

Other programs and services offered by the AABB include the national clearinghouse, a mechanism allowing donors to replace blood for friends or relatives living anywhere in the country; the rare donor file; frozen blood depots; continuing education programs;

reference libraries for information exchange and consultation; a voluntary hepatitis detection-testing program; public and professional information services and professional publications.

Making plans

Consumer workshop coordinator dna Johnson (left) and Ann Bailey get ready to present a lively program of consumer protection information in the area through Communities United for Action (CUFA) Inc. The workshops deal with food fads, credit, budgeting and fraud, as well as individual consumer help. For assistance with a consumer problem, contact CUFA at 292-2110.

Census Bureau seeks temporary employees

The U.S. Census Bureau has a number of temporary jobs open during the next few weeks in Wayne County to help prepare address lists for use during the 1980 census.

Temporary census workers usually will work three to four weeks each, and will be paid on a per-address collected basis. For an 8-hour day, the average worker will earn $27 to $30 per day, plus 17 cents per mile for any driving done in a private vehicle. Applicants for the jobs must be 18 years old or over, a U.S. citizen, and pass a written test.

The work involves driving or walking to compile lists of addresses of each dwelling unit in designated areas of the county. These address lists will play a vital role in taking the 1980 census. They will be used to produce mailing labels for the census questionnaires to be sent to each household in America on March 28, 1980. Then, a few weeks following the April 1 Census Day, census officials will use the address lists to determine which households have not returned their completed questionnaires. Census takers then must be sent to each non-responding household to collect the information required on the census form.

The 1979 address collection activity in the county is part of a Census Bureau program involving 35,000 temporary workers nationwide to compile lists containing approximately 30 million addresses. Another 50 million addresses have been purchased from commercial mailing list companies.

The Census Bureau is an equal opportunity employer.

County residents interested in applying for the temporary census jobs should contact the Michigan Employment Security Commission, 38333 Van Born Road, Romulus, or call 721-5000.

The purpose of the survey is to aid SEMCOG and other agencies in the development, evaluation and updating of region-wide and local transportation plans, activities and needs. The statistical data from the survey will also be used in SEMCOG's air quality planning work.
During the survey, traffic surveyors were stationed at 69 locations scattered throughout the seven counties of southeast Michigan. The surveyors noted the number and type of vehicle on the road (cars, vans, motorcycles, trucks) and the number of passengers each carried.
"SEMCOG transportation planners will now take this data, analyze it and come up with pertinent information that will help us prepare better transportation plans with particular impact on air quality, ridesharing and future road improvements," Michael M. Glusac, SEMCOG executive director, explained.
Glusac said SEMCOG has significant responsibilities to carry out so that the quality of the air in Southeast Michigan is brought up to federal standards as defined under the Clean Air Act and its amendments.
"This survey will help us estimate the amount of air pollution associated with various types of vehicles — and where pollution problems are most likely to occur," Glusac stated. "For example, trucks have different emission characteristics than cars. We need this and similar information in order to develop sound, workable plans to improve air quality and transportation in the region."

Glusac said SEMCOG was one of two agencies in the nation selected by the Federal Highway Administration (FHWA) to test a new manual that is designed to help transportation planning agencies be more effective in compiling statistical data on traffic. The other area in the pilot study is Atlanta, Ga.
In Wayne County, survey locations included Michigan near Gully; Toledo Road between West Grand Boulevard and Clark; Livernois between McNichols and Curtis; Elmhurst between 14th and Linwood; Joy Road between Telegraph and Outer Drive; Telegraph at Hines Drive; Ford Road near Telegraph; Outer Drive near Fort Street; Pennsylvania between Fort and Jefferson; Mer-iman near Joy Road; Middle Belt near Cherry Hill; Bemis near Sumpter; and Eight Mile Road, just east of the overpass at Greenfield on the Wayne-Oakland border.

Time to pick your own

Strawberry season is once again in full swing with the first fruit of the season now available for picking throughout southeastern Michigan. Pickers will once again face a bumper crop of large sweet red berries due to favorable weather conditions during the winter and spring, says Gerald Draheim, Wayne County extension agent.

Berries should be plentiful now through mid-July. Most of the growers sell by the pound, providing containers, while others choose to sell by the quart, either providing baskets or leaving it up to the customer to bring his or her own.

Pickers can phone the strawberry hotline (699-2088), which serves the Belleville area, to determine the best time to come. Other growers in southeastern Michigan also provide a phone service for picking times and prices.

Many of the growers are members of the Eastern Michigan U-Pick Association and will display a sign at the farm which tells the customer that quality and fair pricing are two of the objectives of the association. Then, too, they do provide handouts on how to prepare the berries for freezing, jams, jellies, shortcakes and other uses.

All county extension offices in southeastern Michigan can provide information on where to pick strawberries and how to prepare them for many different things. Detroit area residents can call the Michigan Department of Agriculture at 368-0280 for a copy of "Michigan Country Carousell", a guide to pick-your-own farms and roadside markets.

Consumer Comment

By LINDA JOY
Executive Director
Michigan Consumers Council

Like most legal contracts, the one which Mr. C. was about to sign for his charter vacation trip was complicated and confusing. Although he wanted the best bargain, he also wanted to avoid any potential pitfalls.

To get the answers before he signed, Mr. C. called the Consumers Council Guideline. A counselor here told him about our new ruling by the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) which protects charter travelers like him.

The sweeping new rule places added importance on the contract operators and participants must sign before finalizing the arrangements. Not only must tour operators inform travelers that they are signing a contract, but the contract's language and format also must be easy to read and understand.

The tour operator may collect money for the charter only after this contract has been signed.

Before signing the document, consumers should read the agreement carefully and understand its terms. It should clearly state:

- How and when to pay;
- Dates and times of departure and return;
- Refund rights;
- Cancellation options;
- Ground accommodations; and — The bank or surety company which holds the operator's bond.

The new rule should also sharply reduce charter problems such as changes in departure sites, substandard accommodations and costly cancellation penalties — all common complaints.

Charter participants may cancel and receive a full refund under this new rule if:

- The destination, departure or return date is changed;
- A hotel other than the one specified in the charter contract is booked; or
- The original price of the charter is increased by more than 10 percent.

A charter operator must notify consumers of any of these changes within seven days or as soon as the operator is aware of them. Participants in the charter then have seven days to cancel and must receive a full refund within a week after cancellation.

Although the new CAB rules are aimed at making charter air travel easier and more reliable for consumers, problems may still arise. In those situations consumers should contact the following places which handle complaints against charter operators:

- Civil Aeronautics Board, Bureau of Consumer Protection, 2300 E. Devon Avenue, Des Plaines, Ill. 60018, or call (312) 694-2686.
- American Society of Travel Agents, Consumer Affairs Department, 711 Fifth Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10022, or call (212) 661-2424.

Consumers who have questions on this or any other consumer topic can call the Consumer Council Guideline at 1-800-292-5680 from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

CITY OF ROMULUS

CHAPTER III
ARTICLE 6

AN ORDINANCE TO PROVIDE FOR THE DISPOSITION OF CITY OWNED REAL PROPERTY

THE CITY OF ROMULUS ORDAINS:

SECTION I. Short Title: City Owned Property

SECTION II. The City shall be entitled to sell, lease, hypothecate, or otherwise dispose of or encumber any interest which it might have in real property.

SECTION III. Such disposition may be conducted in any manner approved by the City Council and otherwise in compliance with City Ordinances.

SECTION IV. Disposition of City owned property as described above shall be at a price not less than market value, as certified by the City Assessor.

For purposes of this Ordinance market value, as relates to the disposition of City owned real property, shall be defined as; the highest offer in monetary terms which is submitted in writing after the property has been exposed for sale through newspaper advertisement, and publicly posted notice, including on site signs for a period of not less than six (6) calendar weeks.

SECTION V. The City shall not be obligated to accept any offer even though such offer qualifies under this Ordinance as being at market value, but may reject any and all offers which it deems unsatisfactory.

SECTION VI. Should any clause or provision of this Ordinance be declared by the courts to be invalid, the same shall not affect the validity of the Ordinance as a whole, or any part thereof, other than the part so declared to be invalid.

SECTION VII. Effective Date. This Ordinance shall be published in the manner provided by law and shall be given immediate effect following publication in the official newspaper of the City of Romulus.

I, Leonard J. Folmar, Clerk for the City of Romulus, do hereby certify that the foregoing is a true copy of an ordinance duly adopted by the Romulus City Council at their regular meeting held June 6, 1979.

SUMPTER TOWNSHIP BOARD MINUTES

MINUTES OF A SPECIAL MEETING
OF THE SUMPTER TOWNSHIP BOARD
HELD ON JUNE 11, 1979

Meeting was called to order by Supervisor Demski at 7:45 P.M. Roll Call Showing:

Present: Supervisor Demski, Clerk Hoffman, Treasurer Russell and Trustees: Korotney and Morgan.
Absent: Folks and Williams
Excused: Folks

Also present: Township Attorney Takesian, Glenn Brown of Wayne County Health Dept. and Engineers Swan and Slaviero of Wade, Trim & Associates. Present also was Contractor Harold Ackron of Sunny Seasons.

Motion by Russell, supported by Morgan to accept agenda. Motion carried unanimously.

Agenda

1. Pledge
2. Roll Call
3. Approval of Agenda
4. Discussion with Residents of Harris Road
5. Adjournment

Mr. Swan opened the discussion by explaining the 43 feet County right-of-way on that section of Harris Road. Also that the Contractor has agreed to replace an equivalent length of field on the property with their permission. Mr. Swan stated the property was platted in 1954.

Glenn Brown stated that he had been notified of the problem and that Don Turnbull has been out to Harris Road on several occasions. He said he is interested in resolving the problem and all at one time, if possible. He explained that there are several elements to the problem. The trenching through, damage due to construction and the age of the drain field. He stated that the ideal situation would be for the property owner to replace the complete field, though it is not necessary. Whatever work the contractor does, he will be required to get a permit.

Russell asked Brown how close the water line could be from the field bed. He said he couldn't answer that question. Ackron said it is five feet. Brown stated that the Health Dept. would work with the Engineers to come up with the best solution. At present the field beds are approximately 20 feet wide with four lines.

At present the lines are approximately 720 feet. Should be a minimum of 800 ft. The thing to be determined now is the size of the system, the total work to be done and identify who is going to do what.

An agreement will have to be worked out with the Contractor, the Health Department and the Residents. Brown stated the Health Department would do what they can and work with the others. The system would be equal to what it was originally.

The residents were given a completion date of July 11, 1979.

Motion by Russell, supported by Hoffman to adjourn. Meeting adjourned at 8:50 P.M.

Respectfully submitted,
Clarence J. Hoffman, Jr., Clerk

Certification

I, Clarence J. Hoffman, Jr., Clerk of Sumpter Township, do hereby certify that the foregoing is a true copy of the Minutes taken at a Special Board Meeting held on June 11, 1979, at 23480 Sumpter Road, Belleville, Michigan 48111.

RELAXATION ODDITIES-HELPFUL TIPS

By Joy Miller
Golf may not suit everyone to a tee, but is among the most popular outdoor activities in the world. Presidents and kings play it, comedians crack jokes about it, weekend duffers groan over it, and a small handful of professionals make a fortune from it.

Interestingly, the earliest mention of golf occurs in a prohibiting law passed by the Scottish Parliament in March 1457, under which "golfe be utterly cryed downe." Today, many a weekend golfer toasts his victory with the pride of the Scots, The Glenlivet Scotch.

A helpful tip for good putting is to remember to keep the blade of your putter square to the hole. When you're talking turkey with a businessman, you must look him squarely in the eye. It's the same in putting. When you're talking turkey on the greens, the face of your putter must look squarely at the hole throughout the stroke.

VAN BUREN TOWNSHIP PUBLIC HEARING

VAN BUREN TOWNSHIP PUBLIC HEARING NO. 2 MINUTES June 12, 1979

(Facilities Exemption Certificate - Republic Die & Tool)

46425 Tyler Rd. Belleville, Michigan

Meeting called to order by Clerk Craven at 7:04 p.m.

Roll Call: Present: Clerk Craven, Treasurer York, Trustees Maton, Hall, and Welty. Absent: Supervisor Cullin and Trustee Domen. Also present, Engineers Levine and Wilhelm and Secretary Dudick. Approximately 10 interested citizens attended.

Clerk Craven explained the reason for this hearing is to receive public input regarding a Facilities Exemption Certificate for Republic Die & Tool. The request is being made to facilitate, economically, the expansion of the plant for a stamping operation. The present parking lot will be the site of a new addition.

Emily McClendon, Township Community Developer, stated that the Board will be asked to decide at the next regular meeting whether to grant a partial tax abatement for a period of from 1 to 12 years. Expansion of the present facility will lead to new jobs in the community.

Should the partial allotment be granted the request will be forwarded to the Michigan State Tax Commission for final approval. The Tax Commission has the option of denying the request but usually they go along with the recommendations of local governing units.

Trustee Hall asked Clint Baer, representing Republic Die & Tool, the number of jobs this expansion would create. Mr. Baer stated that 25 new employees would be needed for the first line but in the future, upon completion of the total planned expansion (12 lines) a possibility of 150 total jobs existed.

Clerk Craven asked if anyone in the audience would like to speak in opposition to the granting of this exemption. No one asked to speak.

Ivan Misner, representing property owners to the east and adjacent to the property, asked if a stamping operation of this nature would disinterest others in the area from developing property in the area, and would the noise from such an operation be of a nature to disturb or disrupt current residents.

Emily McClendon answered Mr. Misner indicating that the northern area of the Township is basically where most of the Industrial Development for the Township is planned. The noise factor was discussed with Mr. Baer at the onset of this request and assurance was received by Emily that there would not be any increase in noise or problems to the present residents.

Mr. Baer added that OSHA has tested the noise level inside the plant and no one has ever complained about the plants present stamping operation. He foresees no increase in noise level.

Upon inquiry from Trustee Welty as to the hiring of Van Buren residents Mr. Baer stated they have always preferred local residents for employment.

Mr. Misner and the local residents indicated interest in viewing the plans for the addition.

Mr. Baer stated they will be available in November and will conform to all Township Codes. Based on Republics past history, Mr. Baer expects the new addition to be an attractive structure and as asset to the area.

Engineer Wilhelm, in response to a question from Treasurer York, indicated that at present there are no drainage problems in the area. When the site plans are available the engineers will review them for any possible future problems that might arise.

Hearing no further questions or comments from the audience or the Board, Clerk Craven closed the meeting at 7:29 p.m.

Respectfully submitted,
Doreen Craven, Clerk

(This is the 11th in a series of 12-articles, entitled Can You Survive, containing survival tips from the U.S. Air Force Survival School at Fairchild Air Force Base, Wash.)

You are preparing for a hunting trip. The weather has been snowing intermittently with the temperature in the mid 20s. The forecast is for continued snow and low temperatures. In order to prepare for your outing that is to last five days, selection of the proper clothing is critical.

WOULD YOU

A. Select cotton jeans, sweatshirts and leather boots as your primary garments.

B. Select a combination of cottons and polyesters.

C. Select wool garments.

D. Select a combination of garments. The type of clothing is not as important as the quantity. TO SURVIVE

Survival experts agree that alternative (C), wool clothing, is the best type of wear in cold environments. Wool is non-absorbing fabric with the unique property of keeping the body warm even when it is wet.

Alternatives (A) and (B) offer cotton or cotton and polyester combinations. These are satisfactory in warm climates, but are not suitable in cold environments because they absorb and retain water, making them deadly combinations. Additionally, cotton is slow in drying out because of its total absorption of moisture. To the outdoor enthusiast who must depend on his clothing for warmth, the choice of what type of clothing to wear is critical.

Alternative (D) is erroneous in its claim that the type of clothing is not important. Wool is the preferable fabric, but must also be properly cut in order to provide freedom of movement and insulation value.

It is also good to note that while wool garments are warm when wet, the loose weave of the fabric is not a good windstopper. So, a good windbreaker is advisable as an outer garment in order to minimize loss of body heat trapped in the wool weave. (A service of your local Air Force recruiter.)

AN ORDINANCE TO PERMIT A MORE ORDERLY AND SYSTEMATIC METHOD OF COMPILING ORDINANCES, TO PROVIDE FOR THE ADDITION TO, AND/OR AMENDMENT OR REPEAL OF, SECTIONS OF SAID CODE

SHORT TITLE: CODIFICATION ORDINANCE.

WHEREAS: The present system of arranging and indexing City Ordinance has proven to be unworkable; and,

WHEREAS: The City Charter Chapter VII, Section 7.6 (c) provides for the codification of City Ordinances; and,

WHEREAS: The City Council deems it in the best interests of the citizens of Romulus, and of good government, to organize the ordinances of the City of Romulus into a Code.

THE CITY OF ROMULUS ORDAINS:

SECTION 100-101. The City Clerk shall prepare all City Ordinances in a loose leaf form. Such codification shall contain a systematic arrangement of the Ordinances of the City of Romulus according to the general subject matter covered by each Ordinance.

SECTION 100-102. Each section of said Code placed hereafter in the City of Romulus shall be placed in the Code of Ordinances in accordance with the content and in compliance with the over-all numbering system hereafter enumerated.

(1) The first digit of the first three digits, designates the Chapter. The third digit of the first three digits, delegates the Article.

(2) The second three digit set shall be separated from the first, by a hyphen, and shall delegate the various sections of each individual Article.

(3) Any subsection shall be established in numerical order and enclosed in parentheses.

SECTION 100-103. In the event that the City of Romulus enacts additional Ordinances such Ordinance shall be added to the topical subject Section which said Ordinance legislates. Each of said additional Ordinances shall be assigned a subsectional number in numerical sequence to the Ordinance immediately preceding it.

SECTION 100-104. In the event that the City of Romulus shall amend or repeal an existing Ordinance or Section thereof, such amending or repealing Ordinance shall be given the same numerical number the Ordinance and Section thereof previously enacted.

SECTION 100-105. The subsequent passage of new Ordinances not legislating the codification of City Ordinances shall not require the amendment of this Ordinance.

SECTION 100-106. The City Clerk shall reproduce, or cause to be reproduced, copies of said City Code and shall make copies of the same available to the public at the Office of the City Clerk for a reasonable charge.

SECTION 100-107. This Ordinance shall become effective immediately upon publication.

I, Leonard J. Folmar, Clerk for the City of Romulus do hereby certify that the foregoing is a true copy of an ordinance duly adopted by the Romulus City Council at its regular meeting held on the 6th day of June, 1979.

Gala Nite marks opening of Meadow Brook season

Meadow Brook Music Festival begins its 16th summer season Thursday (June 21) with a "gala opening night," featuring the Detroit Symphony Orchestra under the direction of the popular young American conductor, Michael Tilson Thomas.

Thomas, who has become a favorite among Meadow Brook audiences, is making his third festival appearance. He is internationally acclaimed as a master musician and is widely known for his extensive repertoire of both classical and popular recordings.

Thomas will conduct three concerts during Meadow Brook's opening week — both the Thursday and Saturday symphonic concerts, as well as Sunday evening's Pops Concert. Thursday's program will include the works of Berlioz, Rachmaninoff, Satie and Respighi.

Featured soloist is the talented Israeli-born pianist, Ilana Vered, who has been praised for her "versatility, sensitivity and brilliant piano techniques." Miss Vered will play Rachmaninoff's Third Piano Concerto.

On Saturday, Thomas conducts Mahler's Symphony No. 3. Highlighting the program will be a performance by one of America's most distinguished mezzo-sopranos, Florence Quivar. In addition, the concert will feature the combined voices of the women of the Kenneth Jewell Chorus and the Detroit Lutheran Singers plus the Children's Choir of Christ Church, Episcopal of Grosse Pointe.

Thomas returns to the Meadow Brook stage on June 24 to kick-off the Sunday Pops Series with a tribute to George Gershwin, entitled "That's Music by George!" This all-Gershwin program will feature world-renowned pianist Earl Wild and the Detroit Symphony Pops Orchestra.

The Friday Jazz Series gets off to a dynamic start on June 22 with jazz great, Lionel Hampton and his All-Star Band plus jazz pianist, Marian McPartland. Two long-time favorites, Hamp, as he is called, is entering his 45th year as a musical performer, while Miss McPartland can boast of 30 successful years as a jazz entertainer. This is a show jazz buffs won't want to miss!

On June 23 at 11 a.m., the first of the four-concert Children's Series will be offered. It's "A Toy Store Morning" — a one-hour concert of mime and music designed especially for youngsters. Performing will be the Pastiche Wind Quintet and two entertaining mimes — Patricia Roan-Judd and Thomas A. Aston.

During this opening week, June 21-24, all Pavilion seats have been sold-out for the Sunday Pops Concert, while a few seats are still available for Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings. Ticket prices range from $7 to $10. Lawn seats, at $4 and $5, still are available for all opening week performances. Tickets for the Children's Concert will be sold at $3 each.

Thursday, Friday and Saturday Pops Concerts begin at 8:30 p.m. Sunday Pops Concerts start at 7:30 p.m. All are held in the outdoor Baldwin Pavilion on the Oakland University campus in Rochester.

Prior to concerts, dinner will be available in the Cafe Promenade on Trumbull Terrace, adjacent to the Baldwin Pavilion. Meals are served up to 2½ hours before each concert, but reservations are required. Less formal dining will be provided at the Steak House Buffet, also located on Trumbull Terrace. Or, guests are invited to bring their own picnics to enjoy on the concert grounds.

For dinner reservations, tickets or program information, call the Meadow Brook Music Festival box office (313) 377-2010.

Greenfield Village hosts antique music muster

Trilling fifes and booming drums will reverberate through Greenfield Village June 30 and July 1 in the Antique Fife and Drum Corps Music Muster, part of the Detroit-Windsor International Freedom Festival June 29-July 4.

Thirteen colorful fife and drum units in colonial military dress will step smartly through parades and concerts in the largest music muster of this type in the Midwest.

The music of these corps, now stirring entertainment, originally served the far more serious purpose of communicating with battle troops over the roar of gunfire and the noise of horses and men.

Each day's activities include a parade of massed units at 12 noon through Greenfield Village to the Activities Field, where the 1st Michigan Fife and Drum Corps will play Chester (the national anthem prior to The Star-Spangled Banner) and the Plymouth Fife and Drum Corps will play "The Star-Spangled Banner." Short individual performances by each corps will follow.

Beginning at 10 a.m. and continuing through the weekend, individual units will give concerts at the Henry Ford Museum entrance, the Greenfield Village entrance, the 1650s Susquehanna House, the Village Green, and Suwanee Park.

Village visitors can observe the festivities of the Antique Fife and Drum Corps Music Muster at no charge beyond the regular Village admission of $3.75 for adults and $1.75 for children 6-12. Children under 6 are admitted free.

Citizens must pay for council mistake

How soon they forget!
The Romulus City Council once again held a closed session, this one for the purpose of ending a pending law suit against the city for holding a closed session.
How appropriate.
Late last year, the Romulus council decided to meet in closed session to discuss union representation for city employees. But the meeting was not properly announced and violated provisions of the states 'Open Meeting Act.' Additionally, council decided to discuss other matters at the closed session, matters properly discussed at a public meeting only.

While that meeting was closed and unannounced, council did tape a portion of it and a local businessman, Mr. Ed Rush, obtained a copy of that tape, and filed suit in Circuit Court, to compel council to comply with law.

Much like the defendants in the 'Watergate' cover-up, the Romulus council decided to 'tough it out,' rather than simply concede that a mistake had been made. And now a bad situation has become a horrible situation that has and will cost Romulus taxpayers more than $5,000.

Apparently following the leadership of Jimmy Raspberry and Ray Cantrell who were intent on preserving their credibility, council rejected attempts to end the litigation by paying the legal expenses for the man who initiated the suit.

Well finally, another closed session was held, apparently legally this time, and council voted to end the suit.

That decision came too late,, offered too little compensation to the citizens of Romulus, and cost those same citizens far too much.

We think it is time for the elected officials of Romulus to realize that the citizens of Romulus are the boss. Council's job is to get the job done, and get it done for the least number of dollars.

We would hope that both the council and the public has learned something from this episode.

Council should have learned that the city's funds are not there to be used for political purposes such as preserving the shaky credibility of some members who would place their own interests before the public's.

The public should have learned that government is only as good as the people who they elect to represent them.

But council should not be judged on the basis of the mistake they made, but rather on how hard they worked to try and avoid admitting the mistake.

And Mr. Ed Rush, citizen of Romulus, should be lauded for his efforts to ensure that public officials remain accountable to the citizens who elect them.

Democracy will survive the occasional mistakes of its elected officials, but it can not survive without people who would make officials answer for those mistakes.

'Long live the king!'

Another Strawberry Festival has gone into the history books. The latest, proved again to be an attraction which brought many visitors to the Belleville-Van Buren area.

While it is always a pleasure to partake of the pleasant company, food, fun, and excitement, the Festival provides far more than just that.

What it is all about is identity. That commodity that so many are able to take for granted, and is almost unknown by others.

Community identity is that elusive ingredient that makes a town, a community. Rather than streets, houses and people, identity creates neighborhoods, homes and friends.

For those towns which have lost it, only the derelicts remain as a reminder of what was and could have been. For those towns that have it, warmth and comfort are the rewards.

For that reason, we at Associated Newspapers are proud to have played a small part in the recently past Festival which did so much to promote community spirit and good will.

But in the final analysis, it is not the organizations involved that make a community activity successful, it is the people who so freely give their time and energy to the cause.

It is the people who donate their time, time away from their families, and the people who have attended the many meetings back while the snow was still on the ground, who have made this year's Festival a winner.

But the Festival is the community, and the community became the festival for three days in June.

For the visitor to Belleville-Van Buren area, the impression is based on that experience. It is an impression of community spirit when neighbors worked together to promote a town and its residents.

For us at Associated Newspapers, 'Belleville is King'. And 'Long live the King!'

But while the strawberries will soon be gone for another year, the people who are Belleville-Van Buren will remain.

And, in the final analysis, who could ask for more than that.

Compensation task force created

By DAVID A. PLAWECKI
State Senator

After experiencing many failures in the past few years in our efforts to reform Michigan's troubled workers' disability compensation system, I can report that there is reason to be guardedly optimistic about a new attempt now underway.

A newly established workers' compensation reform task force has begun meeting and we hope to be able to recommend a reform bill to the Legislature later this year.

There is no doubt that the workers' compensation system needs a complete overhaul. Although the system costs businesses and estimated $1 billion annually, the maximum benefits paid under the system are below those paid in many other industrial states. Thus, the system is unfair to both workers and businesses.

The failure of our previous efforts to achieve reform can be attributed mainly to the lack of much needed facts and figures. We need accurate statistics regarding total system costs so that we will be able to propose an equitable reform bill. Without reliable statistical data, various groups can make claims about the likely results of proposed legislation which cannot be proved nor disproved.

As Chairman of the Senate Labor Committee, I have worked hard in past efforts to bring about a reform of the workers' compensation system. Now, as a Co-chairman of the new task force, I am asking that all those who participate in this endeavor bring with them factual information.

All the interest groups participating, including those representing labor and business, also will have to be willing to cooperate and compromise. We have heard a great deal of inflammatory rhetoric in the past, and while it may have sounded impressive, it has not produced the reform we so badly need.

Also serving as Co-chairmen of this new task force are State Representative Perry Bullard, Chairman of the House Labor Committee, and C. Patrick Babcock, State Labor Director. William McLaughlin, Director of the State Commerce Department, is a member of the task force and the Michigan AFL-CIO, the United Auto Workers (UAW), the Michigan State Chamber of Commerce and the Michigan Manufacturers Association have been invited to participate.

I am hopeful that we will be able to identify priorities, from the viewpoints of both business and labor, and then use accurate data to work for balanced reform legislation.

I also am optimistic that the Governor will be willing to become personally involved in this new effort to achieve reform.

Earlier this year the Governor delivered a special message to the Legislature asking us to undertake a new effort to overhaul and reform the workers' compensation system.

The legislative leaders in both the House and Senate have indicated their willingness to cooperate in a new reform initiative. But a task for this magnitude also requires the personal involvement of the Governor in addition to the participation of his designated department heads.

We have a great deal of work ahead of us in the weeks ahead and the issue is admittedly a controversial one.

But if we are to continue to attract new jobs to this state, preserve the ones already here and provide equitable compensation for disabled workers, then we must make this new effort to achieve reform a successful one.

'Coach blows sure victory!'

By DENNIS FASSETT
Managing Editor

I could have had it all. Trophy, Blue Ribbon, and the works. But a lousy coach made me an also-ran.

Scene of the contest which pitted man against Strawberry Shortcake, was the St. Anthony's Church parking lot, recently converted to one of the sites of the annual Belleville Strawberry Festival.

Each year in June, the Pick-Your-Own strawberry growers of Belleville, along with their locally elected public officials, host the Festival which draws thousands to the Belleville-Van Buren areas for fun, games, races, and eating in honor of Belleville's recently gained title of 'Strawberry Capitol of the World'.

For almost a year, volunteers are engaged in planning the three day affair held right at the peak of the strawberry growing season.

First and foremost in the minds of the promoters is of course, selling pick-your-own strawberries. But a happy spin off from the normal do it yourself strawberry picking which witnesses the quick arrival and even quicker departure of hundreds of strawberry lovers, is the Belleville festival which not only attracts the pickers of strawberries but keeps them in the area for a good time as well.

Beginning on Friday with a contest to select the Belleville Strawberry Festival Queen, and ending on Sunday evening with dinner, the Festival now in its fourth year, boasts of ever increasing participation.

But my involvement in the festivities started on a sweet note and ended on a sweet note, less blue ribbon.

This year, I was invited to join in the Celebrity Strawberry Shortcake eating contest.

And for the first time, I have become painfully aware of the wisdom of Tom Mooradian's view that coaching is everything. I also understand why Marie said "Let Them Eat Cake."

Finding myself in front of the four-pound creation consisting of gobs of strawberries, two giant cakes and heaps of whipped cream, I came to the realization that a plan was needed to deal with this situation.

While losing a contest such as this could be explained away as the sacrifice to not looking like a pig, winning would be a much more pleasant alternative. Notwithstanding the blue ribbon and having one's name permanently inscribed on the huge Trophy to be displayed at city hall.

Having never been in the situation of having to plan an attack on such a formidable opponent, I was engrossed in the process of trying to decide if the berries or cake should be eaten first.

Enter, Tom Greenwood, my staff photographer who had been here before witnessing the agony of victory and the thrill of defeat.

"Eat the cake first," he whispered. It is heavier than the berries and most of the others will be eating the berries first. "You can get a good jump on them."

"Three minutes left," the man said as I attempted to choke down the dry cake cleaned of its strawberries

First layer gone, I pushed the strawberries off the second while Greenwood urged me on. "You're leading the pack, eat a few berries to wash the cake down," he said. One minute left the man said as I was finishing off the last few chunks of cake even before the first had found their way to my stomach.

"Time!" The announcer said, to my relief. While I have to concede that I am probably the first person in history of the contest to have almost finished the cake, thanks to Tom Greenwood, later it was discovered by my coach, that the berries are heavier and easier to eat.

Well next year, I shall even up the score. I will enter Greenwood in the contest and try to convince him that his plan was good, only the person carrying out the plan was weak.

Next year, I will be whispering, "Eat the Cake first Tom."

At the close of the school year, Romulus Community Schools will be losing one of its finest administrators.

Bill Smith, Director of Community Education for the past eight years, is taking a year's leave of absence.

Bill has worked tirelessly to develop and improve upon programs to serve the people of Romulus, from pre-schoolers in Head Start to senior citizens.

A good indication of the impact Bill has had on the community is reflected in how well known he is, not just within the schools, but at city hall, in the business community, and in the neighborhoods throughout the school district.

Having taught in the adult education program for seven years, I have been Bill contribute countless hours of personal time to the programs he has directed. His own standards for excellence have resulted in him being a stern taskmaster for himself.

In addition to his assigned responsibilities he has undertaken many extra burdens, such as organizing millage campaigns, putting together school district publications, community relations work in various forms, etc.

As one of the senior members of the adult education staff, I would like to thank Bill for what he has done for the people of the City of Romulus. The community has been enriched by his presence.

Bill Smith, the name may be common, but the man is exceptional.

Glee club suggestions

Editor:

As a Belleville High School Girl's Glee Club and Concert Choir alumnus, I would like to make the following suggestions.

A Belleville High School Choral Alumni Association should be organized to:

Give their own concerts, keep in touch with former students, foster interest in current choral programs, involve former students in current choral concerts and musical productions, help with publicity and help raise support for musical productions.

The Belleville High Choirs should perform more complete classical works. (for example—in 1970, the choir performed Bach's Magnificat) Invite outside groups to give concerts. (for example—in 1969, the Michigan State State Singers performed a concert in the Belleville High gymnasium.)

Keep the choir banquet to a two-and-a-half hour time limit — the frivolity could be kept to a minimum.

I believe that our alumni could be an asset to the musical atmosphere of this area and that our potential is not being fully utilized.

What I miss is being able to sing in an organized group. I think it is a good idea to have the alumni sing with the choir at the end of the winter and spring concerts and at the choir banquet, but it would be even better if we alumni could have our own organized group.

Please let me know what you think of this idea and maybe we can do something about it.

Teamsters hit

Editor:

The undersigned employees of Huron School District would like to thank the voters of the school district for passing the ten-mill renewal proposition at the June 11 election.

The intent of this letter is to inform those voters receiving at the polls a blue card stating that Huron School Employees were advocating a "no" vote on the renewal and additional millage, that these cards were not being distributed by the entire staff of Huron Schools, but merely a small group of disgruntled bus drivers and custodians, members of Teamsters Local 214.

We are greatly disturbed that a small group of employees would have the nerve to print anti-millage literature and indicate that it represented the views of all the employees in this district. In fact, it was decided upon by only 24 members of the Teamster Local consisting of 57 members.

Many employees have worked long hours for years to improve the quality of education in this district and upgrade the facilities available for our students. We are extremely angry and very upset with the attempt of the Teamster unit to mislead the voters into thinking that their lack of interest in educating the children of this community is shared by all employees of this school district.

For advice

Ask

Carol Premo

By CAROL PREMO, C.S.W.

Dear Carol,

My son, an energetic 6 year old will not be hurried. When we have to go somewhere he is always the last to be ready, still looking for his shoes when we have our coats on. Even his teacher says he is a good boy, but slow to do what he is told (like cleaning up or getting ready to go outside). How do you speed him up?

Frustrated Parent

Dear Parent,

It sounds as if your six year old is making an attempt to control his environment. It is very common for children when they first begin school and find most of their acts, thoughts and behaviors controlled, to make some attempt to exert their own controls.

Think of how frustrating it would be to have most movements controlled from the time you get up - brush your teeth, get dressed, sit down, stand up, walk in single file, time to eat, time to play, time to sleep.

It is no wonder they make some attempt to have some say without open confrontation, which is immediately punished.

However, since this kind of behavior is so frustrating for you, why don't you start him twenty minutes earlier than everyone else. See if there are other areas in his life you can open up for him to control, such as giving him choices, i.e. clothing, lunches, some television, etc. If he feels he has some control, he may drop the lagging behind control.

Dear Carol,

Having had almost three years of therapy, many of my friends ask me "How can I tell if I need therapy?" My answer is usually that almost anyone can benefit from therapy; however, those who "need" it, are people who frequently feel guilty over their behavior and/or who frequently have feelings of not wanting or being able to cope with their every day situations.

How would you answer this question?

Needs Reassurance

Dear Needs Reassurance,

Your answer is probably right-on for a good many people seeking therapy. However, the reasons for seeking therapy are as multifaceted as the people who seek it. Feelings of guilt, anxiety, inadequacy, insecurity, anger, tensions at home and work, all contribute to bring people into therapy.

Many years ago people thought the only ones who went into therapy were "crazy." But society has slowly and painfully begun to recognize that people sometimes do need a little extra help in a hectic and rapidly changing world. So, as you say, probably anyone who feels they would like someone to talk to would benefit.

Truthfully, people seldom ask me this anymore because they are afraid I will get on my soapbox and discuss this for at least an hour.

Dear Carol,

When she was 14 my daughter came down with ulcerative colitis. Now she is 23 and living with the chronic disease by taking her medication faithfully, but she has a relapse whenever she pushes herself and gets overtired and over-tense.

She lives alone in the same town I do but resists my offers to bring her food or drive her places, preferring to be independent. What's a mother to do?

Mama

Dear Mama,

If your daughter is 23 and living alone and taking care of herself, and has a desire to be independent, then by all means give her the space to do so. One of the most important things for someone with ulcerative colitis or anyone else for that matter, is a sense of self dignity and the ability to care for oneself. Any interference with this process would only be more tension producing. So, just sit back and congratulate her on her efforts.

Dear Carol,

My wife and I spend all our time arguing over small things. She wants me to go with her to marriage counseling so the counselor can tell me off. I really care about our marriage, but that kind of counseling doesn't sound right. Is that really the way it is?

Just Asking

Dear Just Asking,

No. Marriage counseling is not where someone is dragged in to be told off. It is a process whereby a relationship is explored and communication between two people facilitated. Many counselors have been successful in helping people improve marital relationships and at times recognize the necessity for termination. It is designed to help both individuals improve functioning not just to help one at the expense of the other.

However, it is important to get in touch with a qualified marriage counselor. Marriage counselors in Michigan are licensed by the state. To find licensed marriage counselors contact the Michigan Association of Marriage Counselors at 644-2984.

To Ask Carol, write Associated Newspapers, 47818 W. Huron River Drive, Belleville, Michigan 48111.

Parental Pitfalls

Ice cream, cars and kids

By SHERRY WAINES

My theory is that all cars possess an extra option that the salesmen fail to tell you about that you are not required to pay for at the time of the sale. But "Oh Boy" do you pay for it later.

The vehicle I own now came equipped with V-8, auto, air cond, tint-gls, rr defog, rustpr, ps pb pw, amfmst, the works. Plus one more extra that only works in the summer.

It seems that this car of mine cannot pass up any ice cream establishment no matter what. It is so frustrating.

I'll just be cruising along not even thinking of ice cream when all of a sudden out of the blue my car will just whip right into the parking lot of a Dairy Queen, Tastee Freeze or whatever.

So, of course I have to get out of that darn car and purchase a banana split, hot fudge sundae or whatever. It's just disgusting. I don't want to do it, my car makes me.

The first automobile that I ever owned was a real beauty. I just loved that car. But, I think that every other vehicle on the road must have hated it because that poor car of mine could be parked anywhere minding its own business when some other vehicle would come along and bash right into it.

It could be stopped at a traffic light or sitting all by itself in a deserted parking lot and sure enough along would come another auto and run right into my cute little four-wheeler.

Even kids on bikes ran into that car. That poor car spent more time in the auto hospital than any other automobile that I have ever known.

I know one man that has had the same option come equipped with every car that he has ever owned.

Rain, sleet, snow or hail, his cars cannot pass up a quarter Car Wash. It could be night time and 40-below, and his car will never miss a chance to get a bath. It is really heart breaking to see what his cars have made that man go through.

Then there's the tragic story about a teenage boy and his automobile. It seems that right after high school graduation this boy went out and got a job. The day that he was to be at work he rose on time and got all ready for his first day on the new job, when what do you think happened? He was driving to work when his car went completely crazy and took him to the beach rather than his new place of employment. Naturally, he got fired and had to find new employment, but the same thing would happen every time it was a beautiful sunny day.

Needless to say, that young man went through quite a few jobs last summer. The funny thing was that come fall he made it to work everyday on time without his car ever going near a beach.

This spring when his mother told me this story, I told her that she had better tell that kid to either get rid of his car or find a job close enough to home so that he can either walk or ride his bike to work before summer gets here and that vehicle of his starts its funny business all over again.

Now I know exactly what you are saying, "What in the heck has all this got to do with kids and parenting? Well, I'll tell you.

I got to thinking about all the young adults that just got their driving permits and even more that are graduating from high school this year. I bet not one of them have been informed by their drivers training instructor that cars come equipped with these weird options without their knowledge. Innocently they will get into their cars unaware, and who's to say what might happen. They may find themselves going 70 miles an hour when they know the speed limit is 55 or worse yet parking their car up a tree.

Now you know darn well that there isn't a kid alive who would do something like that on purpose. So it's up to us parents to inform our kids all about these options and to be on the look-out.

Everytime that they get into their vehicle they will have to inform that car that they are in complete control and that absolutely under no circumstances will they tolerate any funny business.

It may seem like a difficult feat, I know, but it can be done, I have proof.

Just today my car tried to turn into three different ice cream parlors. But, I took control and said, "No way." And sure enough, it worked. That car of mine didn't even have enough guts to stall out on me.

Have a fun, safe summer and remember, CONTROL is the word.

Common Cause

Behind closed doors

By DAVID COHEN
President, Common Cause

Oil company executives openly acknowledge that the public doesn't believe them about fuel shortages.

Consumers are angered by rising prices. The Carter Administration has moved back and forth with uncertain direction on the energy issue, alternately attacking Congress, consumers, and the oil industry. Congress has refused to deal with the energy problem in any serious way. And the newly-formed Department of Energy completed its first year behind "closed doors."

The DOE leads all federal agencies in the number of freedom of information requests it denies.

Sixty percent of all requests for information the DOE received in its first year of operation were partially or fully denied, according to a recent Common Cause study. Seventy-five percent of those denials that were appealed were reversed at least to some extent.

If a judge's decisions were reversed three-quarters of the time, that judge would be viewed as being ignorant of the law. The Energy Department is plainly flouting the freedom of information law.

DOE has other bad secret habits. It withholds from the public almost three-quarters of the raw data it collects from energy reports.

Some special interests do get inside access to information that is refused the public.

In a recent investigation of the Energy Department, the newly created independent Inspector General (IG)—the DOE office that blows that whistle on department fraud and abuse—found that the Energy Department provided confidential information to an oil industry trade association lobbyist before releasing this information to the public.

The IG concluded that the Energy Department had "maintained a double standard of access to information" that favored the American Petroleum Institute.

President Carter and the Congress ought to take the IG report seriously by insisting on adequate staff for the Inspector General so that the large scale fraud and abuse that the IG says is "now undetected, unprevented, and unpunished" stops immediately.

How can policies be sensibly evaluated or issues fairly discussed if vital information is locked up or oil and gas interests get favored treatment by the Department?

How do we reduce our growing dependence on foreign oil imports, increase our supplies, accept conservation practices and develop alternative energy resources?

How do we muster the kind of public support and national commitment required to give serious solutions a chance?

The answers are not easy. But one thing is certain. The Department of Energy must end its pro-secrecy policy. What cannot be done administratively should be done by Congressional action.

Whether it is crude oil stocks, uranium resources, or other matters, the public, Congress and other sectors of the federal government have a right to know what is behind the information and to make sure fraud is stopped.

Americans are historically selfless in times of crisis. But no one is going to sacrifice in ignorance.

Dun Rovin is site for July 28-29 classic

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Sports Editor

If Tom Piscopink decides to play in the 1979 City Championship Golf Tournament this year he's going to find some changes.

Piscopink, one of the finest amateur golfers in the area, has won the last two tournament titles at Fellow's Creek. He broke course records both times.

However, this year the 31-year-old former Wayne Memorial golf ace, will not only have to contend with a field of 125 challengers, but also a new course.

The 1979 championships will be held on the par 72, 6,850-yard Dun Rovin layout in Plymouth. It will be staged on July 28-29.

Why the switch?

"Last year many of the golfers felt that it was time to play another course," said Bill Hawley, who has been tournament director for the championships for the past 10 years. "We talked it over with Dun Rovin and so we switched."

Rich Cummins, Dun Rovin's

owner, said Sunday that the course is in excellent shape and he'll be happy to provide carts for those who need them.

There is a $20 registration fee for the tournament. The course is charging $17 per golfer for the two-day tournament and the remainder will go toward the purchase of golf trophies. Please make checks payable to: CITY OF WESTLAND, TREASURER. Either mail or drop the fee and entry blank that accompanies this story at the Westland Parks and Recreation offices, 36651

Ford Rd., Westland.

The tournament is designed to determine the city championship for Westland, Wayne, Inkster, Canton and Garden City. Amateur male golfers from all five communities are eligible to compete for city titles in each of their respective communities.

Also at stake are over-all tournament medalist (low scorer) honors and determining the make-up of five-man teams that will represent each competing city at the Michigan Recreation and Parks Association's state championship. (Site for the state finals have not been determined as yet.)

The low five scorers from each city will be eligible to play on the city team going to the MPRA state finals. All other golfers will become alternates in order of their finish.

The championships will be decided by medal play for 36 holes. Golfers will play their first 18 holes on Saturday, July 28, then return for the finals on July 29.

Trophies will be awarded to first, second and third place finishers of each of the flights. There will be additional flights organized only if the total entry from a city is sufficient and warrants it.

Henry has tough act to follow

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Sports Editor

Q. If you were a newly hired coach would you prefer to replace someone who had built up a winning tradition or someone who had left a program in shambles?

Dan Henry, who has the dubious honor of following Gordie Davis's act at Westland John Glenn, was on the answering line.

"It's a tough question, really," Henry said. "In both incidents the coach has a challenge, but I think I like the one I inherited."

The 26-year-old Henry was named this week to replace Davis, who resigned recently to devote more time to his family. Davis's basketball teams, traditionally strong and winners of the last three Northwest Suburban Conference championships, have left an indelible mark in the area.

Henry has the responsibility to perpetuate that image.

An assistant coach for the past two years, Henry knows basketball. It has been a part of his life "as far back as I can remember," he says. He played for Riverview in the old Mid-Wayne Conference league and was an all-conference guard. He graduated from Eastern Michigan University and began his coaching career at Stevenson Junior High. Married to Cheryl, the couple has three small children - Joshua, Jacob and 'Bo' Travis.

"I've had the junior varsity here at the high school for the past two years," Henry says. "So I know what we're up against. We had a pretty good, if not darn good junior varsity year last season. Our kids had a 14-5 over-all record."

Glenn thrived on guard Daran Armstrong's acute ability to find the free man and pass to him in all sorts of situations. But Armstrong won't be around to toss in those key buckets next year.

"Yes, we're definitely going to be hurting without him next year," Henry said. "And we also lost Ralph McKenzie, Tim Ruark, Brad Jennings and a lot of other excellent players."

"But we still have a couple of solid ball players around - Wayne Woodward, who's the closest thing to an Armstrong, and Ken Leidel. Both players are in the 5'10" range."

Like most high school cage coaches, Henry isn't waiting around for the clock to strike midnight to learn his horses are but huge pumpkins. He's initiated several clinics that will put uniforms on potential players for the 1979-80 season and in the years ahead.

"We began our clinics on June 18 and they'll run until July 12," Henry stressed. "We're inviting kids from the seventh to the 12th grades to participate, and we're meeting at Glenn Monday through Friday beginning at 8 a.m."

Henry has been an understudy of two excellent coaches - Jim Schultz, the ex-Dearborn Divine Child cage strategist and then Davis. Schultz definitely was the kind who liked to slow down the game and work for the percentage shot, while Davis's credo was more of the 'one-who-governs-less-governs-best' philosophy - that's my point of view which, of course I could be wrong, Shana.

What can area coaches expect from Henry's varsity teams? "I'm seeking sort of a median between what Gordie taught me and what I learned at Divine Child," Henry said. "There's so much to this game - I think that's what makes it so appealing to the fans - that you really have to prepare for just about everything in order to survive."

It sounds just like another game I know, Dan. It's called life.

Dannon's comes up winner, 8-6

It was probably one of the best all-around played games of the Romulus Parks and Recreation's young softball season.

The credit for the superlative performance goes to McNasty's Lounge and Dannon Yogurt who kept the fans in suspense until the last inning.

In that final inning, with two away, and men on first and third, Dannon's Kurt Lenderman got his chance to play the role of hero. He had belted one out of the park before, so they intentionally walked him in his second appearance.

However, losing hurler, Dennis Richards decided to pitch to the slugger who drilled a three-run over-the-fence homer to give his team a narrow 8-6 victory.

McNasty's grabbed a 3-run first inning lead and managed to increase the margin to 4-1 before Dannon's countered with a couple of two-run spurts in the fourth and fifth frames. It was up to McNasty's to tie it and they did in the bottom of the sixth.

That set the stage for the thrilling finale and Lenderman didn't miss his opportunity. He finished the game with a pair of homers and a single. Teammates Joe Charnley and Morris Hall split six hits with one of Morris's going for a three-bagger.

Richards was the loser, David Staten got credit for the victory.

In other games, Romulus House Restaurant continued its hitting Floyd Carter isn't waiting until the last day to get ready for the 1979 high school football season.

No sir. In fact, Carter and his grid boosters at Wayne Memorial, are preparing to suit up their kids in the finest gear money can buy.

To do that, the booster club will hold a "bingo" night at 7 p.m., June 22 at the Wayne Ford Civic League hall, on Wayne Road between Ford and Marquette Rds.

There will be plenty of prizes.

And all monies will go to the purchase of football equipment for the football team at the high school.

Still one more 'big game' ahead

The 1979 high school baseball season will be remembered in these parts as the year of the big rains. The season started with an ice storm which eventually gave way to unseasonal rains that led to muddy and unplayable diamonds. But that's all history now. But before the sports staff can write the final page to a season that is noted for games that weren't played rather than were, the Associated Newspapers hopes to make this year a memorable one for at least a handful of players by honoring them on its coveted All-Area team. That team will appear here next week with photos and thumbsketch stories of each of the players.

"Where Customers Bring Their Friends"

Unbeaten Studio Lounge finds new challenger

When and if Studio Lounge, the undefeated women's Class A softball champ in Westland pauses for a rest, it's going to find it has a roommate atop of the league standings.

Alberta Thomas, erupting for four runs in the second inning, stunned Jamies 7-5 for its fifth consecutive victory. That triumph kept the Westland newcomer in pace with the perennial champs.

Studio meanwhile tore Rocco's to shreds 16-2 to remain perfect on the season.

Sharon Turflinger, back on the mound for Studio, twirled a four-hitter as the champs scored in every inning to hand Doris Madar the loss. Turflinger helped her own cause with three hits. She also received ample hitting support from Heather Domke who drilled a homer, three singles and collected three runs batted in.

Jackie Randall latched on to three hits for the winners.

Barb Roth, Cindy Watts and Ruth Failer accounted for three of the four hits off Turflinger.

Meanwhile, Thomas had its hands full with Jamies who scored three times in the fifth inning and again in the bottom of the seventh to make a game of it. Loser Tammy Mauno gave up two hits to Rhonda Dreher, who homered and also had two RBIs. Cindy Lillis and Karen Lowrey swatted six singles between them.

Jamies' got their bats on the ball, Diane Staron laced three hits off of winning hurler Sheryl Chomiuk. Chomiuk also served up a couple of singles to Jan Crawford and Judy Griwicki.

In other games, Bev's Girls evened up their record 3-3 at the expense of the County Mounties, 22-5. Jeanette Gwizdak drove in three runs on four hits and Edwina Stromoski slashed a couple of doubles and triple for three RBIs as the winners got to loser Jean Hamilton for 18 hits. Hamilton also delivered three singles to Mary Soromen.

The Mounties' best at the plate was Dawn Lalonde whose pair of singles drove in two runs. She also scored twice. Joyce Cagling was the only batter to get an extra-base hit off of winner Bev Liverance.

Johnny's Shell flexed its muscles to blank helpless Unlimited, 16-0, as winning pitcher Alyson Wilkins tossed a three-hitter. She gave up singles to Colleen Duderus, Barb MacRoberts and Carol Anderson.

On the other side of the ledger, Ann Kilnits homered off of loser, MacRoberts, who gave up a pair of singles to Chrystal Minton and a single and triple to Sheryl Schaffer.

The Hair Affair snapped a four-game losing streak, emerging with a 15-9 victory over winless Players' Lounge. Sue Thompson fired a three-hitter, allowing Kathy Gillette to get the only extra-base hit, a double, off of her. She also gave up singles to Mary Teske and Barb Wilcox.

Thompson also sparked at the plate. She pounded loser Carol Selmar for four hits and drove in three of her team's runs. Jerry LaPere and Carol Pfeifer also had three hits off of Selmar.

Studio, Hideaway battling it out

It's 'hot' race in Metro

Precariously perched atop of the Westland Major Softball standings, Studio Lounge remained one-game up on Hideaway thanks to a pair of decisive victories last week.

Studio, a perennial title threat in the league, destroyed Joe Thomas in their first meeting of the year, 27-8, and annihilated Leaseaway 19-1 for its seventh victory in eight starts.

While Studio was mopping up its two opponents, Hideaway romped past P & P Distributors 22-3 and mauled Metro Maintenance 10-1 to build up a 7-2 record.

Studio struck for four runs in the first inning and belted losing pitcher Joe Cooley for 36 hits in their triumph over Joe Thomas's. Jerry Holbrook put a couple of balls into orbit for over-the-fence homers while teammate Scott Brown also drilled three hits, one heading over the fence against winning hurler, Ron Jones. Jones also gave up two hits to Chuck Copleland.

Meanwhile, Studio's John Irwin, Bill Pierce and Dennis James looked awesome at the plate. Irwin laced four hits, one a homer, and drove in four runs. Pierce got a pair of roundtrippers and two other hits, driving in five runs. James whacked a homer and chipped in three singles.

Leaseaway was in the game until the late innings when Studio erupted for four runs in the sixth and capped it off with a nine-run seventh.

Jones held Leaseaway to eight hits and missed a shutout when the losers put a run on the board in the second inning, thanks to Jeff Pizutti's circuit clout. Mike Colainne and Steve Riddle split four singles for the losers.

Tom Wilmot got into the home run groove and drilled one over the fence. He also had three singles and scored four runs for the winners. Jones latched on to three hits and Charlie Petrillo socked an over-the-fence homer for one of his three hits.

Hideaway scored six runs in the first and added six more in the second to put P & P out of its misery early. Cliff Orr, the winning pitcher, gave up a pair of hits to Dave Cads, one a run-scoring single. Vince Porcelli also had two singles for the losers.

Bob Sharp, just wasn't, as he was racked for 26 hits. John Marmul had four of those, including a homer, triple and three RBIs. Ron Zuber drove home two runs with three hits and Dave Wyrabiewicz also had three hits, including a double.

Metro Maintenance drew first blood with a run in the opening but winning pitcher Steve Patterson settled down and blanked his rivals the rest away as Hideaway won an easy 10-1 verdict. Norm Beasley and Dave Conlin roughed up Charlie Meyers as Conlin got to the loser for a pair of homers which counted for four RBIs. Beasley belted one over the fence and singled, while Dave Barrows had a single and double.

Patterson held Metro to six hits, two of those to Conrad who scored the only Metro run. Meyers and Tom Barta connected for the other hits.

Jamies' went on a 24-hit rampage to overpower Dearborn Real Estate 19-0 as Gerry Detter, who hit for the cycle, Tim Abramski, who had four hits, and Vern Westerlund, all had homers. Tony Pilarski was the winning pitcher.

In the first extra inning ball game of the season, Jamies's scored three runs in the top of the ninth to pull out a 13-9 decision over Joe Thomas. Thomas forced the issue into overtime when it scored a run in the bottom of the seventh.

Close all the way, the loser's had the edge in hits (17-16) and wasted a pair of over-the-fence homers by Mark Mays who drove in four runs. Teammates Scott Brown and Jerry Holbrook each had three singles.

Gary Bowman, the winning pitcher, aided his cause with a pair of homers and a single. He singlehandedly accounted for four runs driven in. Westerlund laced one over the fence and picked up two singles while Abramski singled and doubled.

P & P erupted for five runs in the bottom of the fifth to erase a 4-2 deficit and beat the Disciples 7-4 for their first win in eight starts. The Disciples' record dipped to 1-8.

Roger Finch and Dave Eads helped winning pitcher Bob Sharp by stroking a pair of hits and driving in a run each. Sharp also had a run-scoring single off of loser, Bill Disch. Disch bagged two hits and Jim Boulder doubled for the losers.

In the only other game, Abbey Roadhouse wrapped up a 16-1 victory over the Disciples as Rick Wolfe held the losers to six hits. Losing pitcher Rob McGuire gave up two homers and a double to Wolfe, also three singles to Jimmy Taylor and a pair of doubles to Bob Lulek.

League champ

Belleville surprised perennial Suburban 8 Conference track and field powers recently by sweeping two of the three relays' titles in that league. The coup was accomplished by the Tiger mile relay team (above) made up of Gilbert Royster (from left), Jerard Hill, Brian Brinkerhoff and David Gdula. Coach Dave Medley's 440-yard relay team of Charles Blackmon, Barry Reddick, Brinkerhoff and Royster also earned a gold medal for its 44.7 performance. Blackmon, (at right) was the best 100-yard sprinter in the league.

Reds to hold tryout camps for area preps at Ford Field

A tryout camp for baseball players will be conducted by the Cincinnati Reds on Tuesday, June 26th in Livonia, Michigan at Ford Field.

The camp is open to all boys from 16 to 22 years of age. High school sophomores and juniors are especially urged to attend.

Reds scouting supervisor, Gene Bennett, will be in charge of the workouts which is scheduled to start promptly at 10 a.m.

Bennett will be assisted by Reds scouts Fred Hayes, Mel Wyson, Joe Carbo, Jim Terry, Herm Kander, Glenn Scala, Ted Cranis, Charlie Covea and DeLeon Bruce.

All eligible players are requested to bring their own uniform, glove and shoes.

The Reds will furnish all other equipment. In addition, each player will be responsible for his traveling and living expense, if any, unless signed to a contract with the Cincinnati Reds organization.

Players must be 16 years of age to be eligible to participate and all American Legion players must bring written permission from their Post Commander or their Legion Coach in order to try out.

Several of the players now playing baseball in the Major Leagues today were first seen at tryout camps such as this one and any boy seriously interested in playing professional baseball should make every effort to attend this camp.

Burghuff makes its move in Wayne 'A' softball loop

Hofbrau Lounge is slowly fading from the Wayne Class A Men's Softball League title picture.

Seated second after a crucial 8-2 loss to league pacesetter, Burghuff, Hofbrau, the defending champ, now trails the pretender to the throne by a hefty two-games.

Consequently, if the course of softball history doesn't change in the form of a couple of reprisals by the rest of the five-team league, Burghuff will be a shoo-in to capture the 1979 championship.

In the duel between the two top teams, Burghuff struck for two runs in the first inning and never looked back as winning pitcher Joe Kadlec scattered seven Hofbrau hits, two of those to Jim Hubbs. Hubbs connected for a triple and single and drove in one run.

Meanwhile, Dave Conlin belted loser Dennis Cowell for five big RBIs thanks to a homer and a pair of singles. Kadlec helped his cause with a pair of singles.

Burghuff survived a 6-5 scare by Unistrut of Detroit which exploded off of winning pitcher Bob Jaskolski for three runs in the first inning. The league-leader got those back and much more in their third when they tilted the scoreboard for all six of their runs.

Unistrut managed to come back for single runs in the fourth and fifth but just couldn't get the key hits off of Jaskolski who gave up a batchful (11).

Corky Hayes and Charlie Pierson did most of the damage on loser Jeff Hogan who gave up a triple and single to Pierson. Hayes latched on to two singles.

Burghuff corralled the Broncos 14-7 behind Kadlec's six-hit pitching. Conlin, Dean Minton and Pierson checked in with three hits apiece. Minton drilled two doubles and had three RBIs.

Dave Gibson had a single and triple off of Kadlec and also three RBIs. Loser Chris Drake was raked for 15 hits.

Paul's wasted little time on loser Dennis Cowell and Hofbrau as they chalked up a onesided 16-2 victory over the second place team. Bob Fullerton was the winner. He carved out a six-hitter. Rick Goodrow had a single and triple, while Denny Cook pounded a homer, triple and single and drove in three runs for the winners.

In another close-one, Burghuff had to battle back from a 4-1 first inning deficit to put down Van Born 8-4. Conlin and Minton combined for four hits between them to stop Joe Sowa from earning the upset.

Kadlec, the winning pitcher, had his problems with Don Thomas and Steve Feichak who each had a pair of singles.

Unistrut struck for 14 runs in their first two innings then had to hold off a surging Broncos team to win a 16-12 decision. Jeff Hogan, the winning pitcher, was tagged for 18 hits, four of them by Dave Gibson, who had a triple and double. Curt Wiitanen socked a pair of singles.

All-Area '9' coming up

It's always tough to single out the best high school baseball players in the area.

That's what Sports Editor Tom Mooradian and staffer Jim Bradley have been doing for the past 10 days. They've finally found a line-up that is second to none in the state.

The ANP sports writers also have picked a "Coach of the Year" to guide the mythical team, and they'll let you in on their star-studded team next week.

Don't miss it. The 'All-Area' is a perfect ending to a long and exciting season.

CONSUMER TIPS

Your children could save a life, with a little help from you and your telephone.

Michigan Bell
people who enjoy serving people.

If you have children at home, would they know who to call in case of a fire, accident or sudden illness? Be sure you have listed near your phone the numbers of your doctor, hospital, poison control, police, fire department and other emergency numbers. Show your children how to find those numbers, how to dial them (if they don't already know), how to call the operator; let them know if 911 can be dialed for fire, medical or police help in your area. Write down your home address near these numbers, too, so your children for your baby-sitter can give it to people who need to find your home in a hurry. (But, for safety's sake, you should instruct them not to give your address or other information to strangers on the phone.) Your telephone can be a lifesaving help in an emergency. Teach your children how to use it for their protection and yours.

Repeat performance... without the boys

Stevenson managed to retain the Wayne-Westland Community School District junior high swimming title last week by holding off a strong challenge from Franklin which placed a close second to the champs. Coach Debbie Sanders' team had to win the title this year without the help of the boys. Last year the team was coed, however, because of the popularity of the sport, separate championships were held for the girls. Pictured above are the reigning two-time city champs.

Stevenson is crowned city junior high swim champions

Propelled by the double-event winning Kim Finney, Stevenson mustered enough points to retain the Wayne-Westland Junior High School Swimming & Diving Championship last week.

Miss Finney turned in a 1:08.0 to claim the gold medal for the 100-yard individual medley, and later returned to the pool to post a 30.4 to capture top honors in the 50-yard butterfly.

South awards 108 letters to athletes

With the spring sports season now history, Belleville South Junior High paused last week to pay tribute to some 108 boys and girls for their

She also came on strong in the 400-yard freestyle relay where she anchored the champs to an easy triumph over second-place finishing Marshall. Nancy Ostlund, Dawn Niezgoda and Janine Luckett made up the rest of the Stevenson foursome.

Franklin started strong. The runner-up claimed the opening event, the 200-yard medley relay thanks to the Batterson sisters - Cathy and Mary who teamed with Karen Vankeuren and Shannon Hofmann. They combined for a 2:12.9.

Mary Batterson then came right back and beat Marshall's Sandy Burns to the finish in the 200-yard freestyle for her first individual gold medal. She also picked up a first in the 100-yard freestyle as she covered the distance in 59.4.

"Our kids did an excellent job," said Stevenson coach Debbie Sanders who pointed out that last year the team won the championship with the boys. This year it was strictly an all-girls' meet.

"You know it's a short season and that's unfortunate, but, believe me, we made great strides in a very short time," Miss Sanders added.

No-hitter

Bee Jay's running away with title

Mary Porter twirled a no-hitter as the league-leading Bee Jay's trounced the Big Boys 21-1 to open up a two-game lead in the Wayne Class A women's softball league.

Miss Porter worked four innings before the game was called because of the "mercy rule." She missed a shutout when a pair of walks led to the Big Boys' lone run in the second. Sharon McMasters paced a 16-hit Bee Jay's assault on losing pitcher Nancy Don as she hammered a bases-loaded triple and singled. The two hits produced six hits. Cindy Edwards had three of those 16 hits and Beth Johnson accounted for two.

The Bee Jays sports a 9-1 won-lost record, two games up on runners-up Jack's Sports Center and Tastee Freeze who are 7-2 on the year.

Tastee Freeze pounced on Dino's Pizzeria 16-1 for its seventh victory of the campaign. Janiel Barthowski had her problems as she gave up 15 hits.

Rene Burnie and Brenda Schwartz each singled and tripled for the winners. Miss Schwartz' two hits drove in four runs. Mary Trayner and Miss Burnie split the mound mark. Trayner, who started and went three innings, gave up two hits, both to Joyce Kruskowski, to record the victory.

Jack's Sports crushed Dino's 20-0, then dropped a crucial 13-2 decision to the Bee Jay's that left them a notch below the leaders.

Jack's struck for six runs in the first inning, erupted for nine in the fourth to put Dino's and pitcher Barkowski away in their initial meeting of the season. The Dino hurler failed to get any substantial defensive support from her teammates who committed 10 costly errors.

Linda Marcinak collected three hits and drove in three runs for the winners. Three others - Winfield, Prieststaff and Manning - each checked in with two hits. Both of Prieststaff's hits were doubles.

Diane Loose laced two of the six Dino hits off of winner Marcinak.

The Bee Jay's cashed in on three excellently-executed double plays to hand Jack's Sporting Goods its second loss. The Jay's piled up 16 hits off of loser Pat Bledsoe who gave up four hits to Mary Porter who latched on to a triple and three singles in chasing home three runs. Jill Bratsky sliced three hits and also had three RBIs, while Lynn Bevard smacked a triple and double.

Bledsoe doubled in one of the two Jack's runs in the third inning, while Winfield wound up with two hits for the evening.

Meanwhile, J & D Auto exploded for 13 runs in the first period and went on to destroy Burghuff's, 12-7, for its sixth victory in nine starts. Mary Stein drove in four runs with a pair of singles and a double for the winners. Teammate Frances Stapleton also pounded out three hits and Santoro chipped in with two which counted for five RBIs.

Rice and Laford split four hits that helped the losers avert the shutout. They scored their two runs in the top of the fourth inning.

Jack's Lounge had one hit more than Burghuff's (9-8) but a six-run second inning paved the way for a 9-5 victory over their rivals. Piscopink, Dilworth and Jourcric each had two hits for the losers. Those hits were offset by two apiece from Divette, Hanef and Mondock.

The two teams exchanged a couple of runs in the first inning, but six unmatched J & D runs in the second eventually proved to be the difference.

A seven-run bottom of the sixth rally lifted Jake's to a 13-6 victory over Ernie's Towing who slipped below the .500 mark with this loss. They're 4-5 on the year. Jake's got some help from the loser's defense which committed two crucial errors in that seven-run sixth. Levenzer banged out a single, double, triple and collected four RBIs for the losers who also received three hits from Aniel, while Mayeran had two. Perusse slashed three hits for the winners, including a double and had three RBIs.

Unistrut was one player short and handed over a victory to Big Boys in their scheduled meeting last week.

Apollo is shot down by Burhop's Lundell

Dave Lundell had a perfect four-for-four at the plate as Burhop Collision edged Apollo's 12-10 in a Van Buren Township softball game.

Lundell drilled a homer and picked up three singles against losing pitcher Bill Russell who gave up 12 hits for the evening. Russell wasted a two-run triple and 18 other hits by his teammates.

Henry Bies survived Apollo's hot bats to chalk up the victory.

Kirk Spangler blasted a two-run homer in the bottom of the seventh to settle the issue in favor of Burhop's. Teammate Bill Kinsella checked in with two hits and two RBIs.

Tied at one-all after the first inning, each team scored three runs in the second, then Apollo took a 5-run lead in the top of the fifth. Burhop got one of those back in its fifth and knotted the game at 10-all in the sixth.

Paul Druker contributed a triple and a pair of singles for the losers.

In other action, Draw Tite scored a run in the bottom of the seventh to nip Moose 10-9 in their initial meeting of the season. Moose clawed back after trailing 5-1 for three innings. The losers scored three runs in the fourth and added four more in the sixth to tie it up at 9-all.

Ed Brenkte blasted two hits, including a homer, and Dick Wilsey chipped in a pair of safeties for the losers who amassed 12 hits off of winning pitcher Alvie Warrens.

Dale Zilka belted three hits and drove in a pair of runs. Mike Palazzola, Mike Bonnici and John Reed each had two hits with Reed's counting for three RBIs.

In earlier games, Draw-Tite overpowered Rheem 10-3 behind Jim Eisleys' eight-hit pitching. Neil Johnson helped the winners with a two-run homer while Palazzola and Zilka each had three hits. John Orthaber finished with two RBIs.

Rheem's Tom Fromer paced the losers with three hits and an RBI.

Rheem's leaped on Horst Mfg. for six runs in the first inning, then added five more in the second en route to a 18-8 victory. Bill Houle hammered a three-run homer for the winners and Chet Bell drilled a grand slam roundtripper for the losers.

5 golfers tied for Canton gals' League lead

If things don't change, it may go right down to the wire before the Canton Township Women's Golf League crowns its 1979 champ.

The first two weeks have produced five title contenders: Tiu Himmelberger, Betty Lowing, Bev Green, Silvia Dickinson and Margaret Faber who are deadlocked in first place with 10 points apiece.

Mrs. Green shot her best round of the current campaign as she carded a 45 for nine at Fellows Creek. One stroke back was Mary Kay Frey while Patsy Keyes warmed up with a 50.

Trailing the leaders are: Carol Kimmins, Pauline Pryor, Nadia Alumpich, Phyllis Wright and Ms. Keyes - all with nine points.

Betty McDougall, Mary Moore and Virginia Johnson each have eight points and at seven points are Estella Heidt, Lou Skotzke, Mildred Livingston and Edie Wilmoth. Barb Zantop has six points, followed by a host of players with five including Betty Williams, Denise Chapman, Helen Martin, Terry Sue Miller, Nancy Brennan and Mary Kay Frey.

Deidre Uesnaugh picked up four points and Linda Kay Drake has one point after two weeks of competition.

Cynthia Drotar is May bride

MR. AND MRS. JERRY TOWNSEND

White ribbons and greenery marked the main aisle pews and arrangements of pink and white carnations adorned the altar as Cynthia Drotar and Jerry Townsend exchanged wedding vows May 5 at St. Anthony's Catholic Church.

The Rev. John D. Kluka presided at the four thirty ceremony before some 100 assembled relatives and friends. Organist was Paula Hufacker.

Mr. and Mrs. Steve J. Drotar of 41175 Savage Rd., Belleville, and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Townsend of 40220 Robbe Rd., Belleville, are parents of the young couple.

Escorted to the sanctuary by her father, Cynthia appeared in an off-white creation of chiffon over antiqued satin designed with a contour band collar and bodice of re-embroidered galloon lace. Sheer full sleeves with lace inserts above the cuff and a shaped hemline banded in matching lace were other styling details on the gown which was made by the bride's sister, Mrs. Thomas Stickney of Whitmore Lake.

Her cathedral-length veil of silk illusion was caught to a little Camelot headpiece of satin, lace and pearls, also made by Mrs. Stickney. Completing her bridal finery was a cascade bouquet of white roses, stephanotis and pink baby carnations.

Serving as honor attendant was Mrs. Rick Sword of Ypsilanti who wore a pink qiana gown fashioned with a blouson bodice, V-neckline and flounce which formed a small sleeve. Pink and wine roses, attached to a comb, were used as a hairpiece and pink silk roses, wine rosebuds and wine velvet streamers were fashioned into the bouquet she carried.

Wearing identical gowns were the trio of bridesmaids, Marie Drotar and Cindy Townsend, sisters of the bridal pair, and Mrs. Keith Jones of Ypsilanti.

The duties of best man were assumed by Rick Sword of Ypsilanti. Ushers were William Brunty of Belleville; William Hall of Gladwin, cousin of the bridegroom, and William Drotar of Belleville, brother of the bride.

Four-year old Coreena Townsend, cousin of the bridegroom and daughter of the Ora Townsends of Milan, carried a white basket filled with wine and pink blooms for her role as flowergirl. Her little pink frock was made with an overlay of white lace and she wore a bonnet to match.

Ringbearer was Thomas Stickney, the 7-year-old nephew of the bride and son of the Thomas Stickneys of Whitmore Lake.

Mrs. Drotar chose for her daughter's wedding a blue floral polyester knit gown to which she added her corsage of gardenias. The bridegroom's mother donned a blue floor-length gown of nylon knit with a companion jacket. Her corsage was made of yellow tinted gardenias.

Following a reception at the VFW Hall in Romulus where 150 guests congratulated them, the newlyweds departed by plane for a week in Orlando, Fla. where they visited Disney World and the Kennedy Space Center. They are now at home to friends at 147 Birch Ct., Holiday Park, Belleville.

The new Mrs. Townsend, a 1977 graduate of Belleville High School, is employed as a bus driver for the Van Buren School System. Her husband, also a 1977 BHS alumnus, is employed by Michigan School Bus Service in Belleville.

The rehearsal dinner May 3 was hosted by the bridegroom's parents at their home on Robbe Road.

MR. AND MRS. EARL D. HOLLAR

Hollars honored on golden year

A reception in honor of their golden wedding day was held June 3 for Mr. and Mrs. Earl D. Hollar of 388 E. Huron River Dr., Belleville. Some 120 relatives and guests arrived from South Bend, Ind., Mt. Pleasant, Milan, Lincoln Park, Taylor, Howell, Fenton, Grand Blanc, Flushing, Allen Park, Wayne Garden City, Ypsilanti, Ann Arbor and Belleville for the party held at the Masonic Temple in Belleville.

Mrs. Hollar, who was Rachel Margaret Roark of Eldon, Mo. on her June 1 wedding day in 1929, wore for the happy occasion a pale blue 2-piece polyester dress. She and her husband, who have been residents of the community for a half century, were honored with a 3-tier white wedding cake iced with yellow roses and topped with an arch of bells and a golden 50.

Since their marriage in Toledo, Ohio the couple enriched their family by three children, Mrs. Ralph (Virginia) Gies of Rochester; Dr. David Hollar of Fenton and Dr. Edward Hollar of Grand Blanc (who were hosts at the festivities) and eight grandchildren.

Mr. Hollar retired in 1965 after being employed by the Van Buren School System for 37 years, his wife leaving the same school system just three years later after a teaching career of 32 years.

Mrs. Hollar, a member of Alpha Delta Kappa (international honorary sorority for women educators) and Grace Baptist Church of Belleville, enjoys crocheting and other needlework in her leisure time. Her husband is inclined toward mechanical pasttimes.

Mrs. Francis Mc Attee was in charge of the food for the party and Nancy Carey baked and decorated the anniversary cake.

August wedding planned

The First United Presbyterian Church of Plymouth has been reserved for the Aug. 25 wedding of Barbara Kay Paganone of Plymouth and Richard Alan Waddell of Romulus. Mr. and Mrs. James Paganone of 42439 Parkhurst, Plymouth, announce their daughter's engagement and nuptial date. A 1971 graduate of Plymouth Salem High School, the bride-elect has an associate's degree in business administration from Schoolcraft Community College. At the present time she is working as a receptionist at American Sunroof Corporation. Her fiancé, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Waddell of 6290 Hannan Rd., Van Buren Township, resides at 6365 Heyer, Romulus. A salesman for Gene Butman Ford in Ypsilanti, he earned his diploma at Belleville High School in 1972.

Altar dates in their future

CLICK-HARPER

A summer wedding is being planned by Melissa Ann Click of Romulus and Stephen Craig Harper of Ypsilanti. Their engagement and August 11 altar plans are announced by Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Click of 28568 Forestdale, Romulus, parents of the bride-elect.

Miss Click, a 1977 graduate of Romulus High School, is employed at Metro Industrial Clinic in Romulus.

The prospective bridegroom, who resides at 2190 Lakeview, Apt. 477, Ypsilanti, is the son of Bobby Harper of Romulus and Gaye Harper of Novi. An employee of Cadillac Motor Car Division of General Motors in Detroit, he, too, earned his high school diploma in Romulus, but in 1976.

The Church of God of Prophecy in Romulus has been reserved for the young couple's wedding.

FLOWERS-HADYNYIAK

A candlelight ceremony on Dec. 1 is among the wedding plans being made by Annette Lynn Flowers and John Hadyndiak, both of Romulus.

Announcement of the engagement was made by Mr. and Mrs. Harold R. Flowers of Menton, Romulus, and Mr. and Mrs. John Hadyndiak of St. Aloysius, Romulus, parents of the couple.

A 1975 graduate of Romulus Senior High School, where she was vice-president of the senior class, Miss Flowers currently is manager of Captain Nemo's in Romulus.

Her fiancé is a 1974 graduate of Romulus High School and is employed by the Romulus Community Schools.

The couple plan to exchange their nuptial vows at St. Paul Lutheran Church of Taylor.

SEYMOUR-WILSON

Jayne Marie Seymour of Battle Creek and Edward Oliver Wilson of Fremont are engaged but have not as yet set a wedding date.

Announcement of their daughter's engagement comes from Mr. and Mrs. Roger F. Seymour of 156 Kings Lane, Battle Creek.

Miss Seymour graduated from Lakeview High School in 1975 and currently is enrolled at Michigan State University as a music education major. A member of Alpha Gamma Delta Sorority, Mortar Board, Phi Kappa Phi, Tau Sigma and Pi Kappa Lambda, honor societies, she is scheduled to graduate in December.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Wilson of 42615 E. Huron River Dr., Belleville, the prospective bridegroom is employed in Fremont as a loan officer for Production Credit Association of Grand Rapids. He holds diplomas from Belleville High School and Michigan State University where he majored in agriculture economics and was a member of Alpha Gamma Rho fraternity.

GUENTHER-NEWBY

The engagement of their daughter, Ellen Marie Guenther, to Keith Bonnell Newby is announced by Mr. and Mrs. Jack Guenther of 48841 Denton Rd., Belleville.

A Belleville High School graduate, Miss Guenther attended Eastern Michigan University for the past two years and is employed at the Van Buren Convalescent Home in Belleville.

Her fiancé, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Newby of Jasonville, Ind., is formerly of Belleville and now resides in Columbus, Ind. A mechanical engineer, he graduated from Rose-Hulman Institute of Technology in 1976 and is now with Cummins Diesel in Columbus, Ind.

A candlelight wedding has been set for July 28 at Grace Baptist Church of Belleville.

Mrs. Sugars hosts PM luncheon

The Past Matron's Association of Belleville, Chapter No. 73, OES, met at the home of Past Matron Florence Sugars of Wayne on Thursday, June 7, with 15 members present.

Following the usual 12:30 luncheon, the president, Pauline Quinley, conducted a short business meeting with the Chaplain, Eva Luper, having the devotions. Plans were made for the annual picnic to be held at the East Huron River Drive home of Past Matron, Rachel Hamilton, on Wednesday, July 25.

The hostess presented two pencil and paper games with awards being given to Pauline Quinley and Katherine Spring.

Newcomers on the scene

Valerie Renee is the name chosen by Gary and Vickie Paris of Westland for their first child born June 6 at Annapolis Hospital in Wayne.

Making her debut at 9:19 p.m., the petite miss weighed 5 pounds - 4 1/2 ounces and measured 19 inches.

Her mother is the former Vickie Block and her proud grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. William Paris of Belleville and Mr. and Mrs. Delton Block of Romulus. Great-grandparents include Mr. and Mrs. Chester Chambers of Drayton Plains and Mrs. John Steffes of Wayne.

The arrival of their first child, a boy, is being announced by Edward and Marsha Gray of 44964 Harris Rd., Belleville. The infant, who put in his appearance at 10:45 p.m. June 6 at Beyer Memorial Hospital in Ypsilanti, is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Gray of Belleville and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Reggish of Canton and the great-grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Powley of Florida.

Titled "Edward Robert", the new heir weighed 8 pounds - 4 ounces and measured 21 1/4 inches.

Jack and Patti Kopenski of Hanford St., Canton, announce the birth of a son, Kevin James, May 28 at Annapolis Hospital in Wayne.

Open house honors son, wife

By Mrs. Joseph Spring
699-4021

On Sunday, June 10, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Ketchum entertained at an open house at their home on Harmony Lane honoring their son, Tom and his wife Heide, of Kalamazoo, who were married last December.

Among the relatives present were Heide's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Merle Rawson; a sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. James Crews, and another sister Vanessa Rawson, all from Quincy. Other relatives and friends came from Otsego, Livonia, Southfield, Detroit, Dearborn, Wayne and Belleville. A buffet luncheon was served during the afternoon.

Howard Rose from Stoneham, Mass., was a recent guest of his sister, Mrs. Samuel H. Robbe of East Huron River Drive for several days.

Mrs. R. G. Atyeo (Blanche), formerly of Church Street moved this past weekend to an apartment at 226 Liberty Street.

On Saturday, June 9, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Thurston of Potter Drive attended the wedding of Kathy Jean Sampson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Darwin Sampson of Greenville, and Gerard Krass, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Krass of Mount Clemens, at 12:30 o'clock at St. Louis Catholic Church in Mount Clemens. The reception following the ceremony was held at Gino's Surf in the above city. The bride's mother will be remembered here as the former Doris Jean Jackson.

Mrs. Juanita Akers of Liberty Street returned home on Tuesday of last week after having spent the past week at Leesburg, Va. with her son, Roy, wife and family. While there she attended commencement exercises at Birch Run High School on June 10. Her grandson, Scott Akers, was one of the graduates.

Mrs. Clayton (Margaret) Saunders of Liberty Street underwent major surgery at Beyer Memorial Hospital in Ypsilanti on Tuesday June 12.

Mr. and Mrs. William Graham of Liberty Street recently returned from a trip to Ontario where they visited their nephews Jeffrey and Norman Graham and their families at Picton; a cousin, Mrs. Grace MacDonald at Toronto, and a friend, Mrs. John Malloy at Ottawa. Enroute home they called on friends, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Gambold at Port Huron.

Miss Mary Mott of Fresno, Calif., was a caller last Wednesday at the John Thompson home on High Street and on Miss Cheryl Thompson who has been a patient at St. Joseph Hospital in Ann Arbor for some time.

Recent guests at the Karr Road home of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Lupher were the latter's brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Logan from Osceola, Ind., and a sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Halsanger of Bremen, Ind.

Mr. and Mrs. George Maki of Quirk Road and Mr. and Mrs. Terry Taylor and small son, Joshua, of Denton Road returned home on Sunday from West Lafayette, Ohio where they had attended the wedding of Dale Maki and Patricia McPherson on June 9 at the home of the bride's parents.

Mrs. Leon Boldt of Roland Street was a luncheon guest on Monday of a long time friend, Mrs. Beatrice Forsythe of Milan.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Orr of Crowley Street attended an open house on June 10 at the Lincoln Park home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Orr in honor of their daughter, Michelle, who graduated from Lincoln Park High School.

Mrs. Hazel Lindquist of Morrice was a guest this past week for several days at the home of her sister, Mrs. Muriel Smith of Liberty Street.

Jennifer Zimmer of Charlotte has been spending the past week with her maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George Robson of Tyler Road.

Mr. and Mrs. Vern Clark of Bella Vista Apartments and daughter, Sharon Clark of Ann Arbor, were among those who attended graduation exercises of Lawrence Institute of Technology on June 3 at Ford Auditorium in Detroit.

At 9:30 a.m. they enjoyed breakfast on the campus with one of the graduates, Steven Susick, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Susick. Following the 3 o'clock ceremonies, they enjoyed a buffet meal at the Susick's home in Lathrup Village.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Waack of Livonia and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Parker of South Service Drive attended the Cloverland Association, O.E.S., held at Iron Mountain on June 8. Then on Saturday, they were at Marquette where they attended a grand dinner and reception for Merle Richards at Presque Isle Chapter No. 403.

Cousins Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Abraham were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Seaman of Savage Road. The Abrahams were enroute to their home in Royal Oak after having spent the winter in Florida.

Attending a Grand Reception for Rainbow Girls held at Battle Creek Assembly No. 23, on June 9 were members of Belleville Assembly No. 49, Denise Welt, Junior Executive Committee; Roberta Welt, Grand Charity; Rose Ann Welt, Mother Advisor; Elizabeth Grubbe, Ronda Claxton and Roberta Pond.

A goodly number of Belleville Chapter No. 73, O.E.S., attended dinner and installation ceremonies of Wayne Chapter No. 182 Royal Arch Masons, held at Westland Saturday evening. A Belleville member, Vincent F. Goodnuff of Alva Drive, was installed as Executive High Priest of the Chapter.

Erin Arcy Bengle, who was born on June 11, 1978, celebrated her first birthday at her home in South Lyon. Guests at her party were her brother, Matthew; parents, Kathleen and Jim Bengle Jr.; grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Moomey of Romulus and Mr. and Mrs. James Bengle Sr. of Detroit; aunts Sarah and Adena Moomey and uncle Guy Moomey of Romulus; and great-aunt and uncle Vivien and Larry Jackson and cousin Heather of Lake Orion.

Among the members of Metro Chapter of Michigan Association Retired School Personnel who attended the annual Spring Luncheon held at Schoolcraft College on Haggerty Road on June 1 were Velma Kulzer, Muriel Bearance, Marjorie Potter, Muriel Smith and Juanita Akers of Liberty Street, Elda Bohl of Robson Road, and Eva Lupher of Karr Road.

Mrs. Kenneth Mericle of Denton Road was among the many guests who witnessed the marriage ceremony and exchange of wedding rings uniting Edith Yoder and Tom Wilson of Ann Arbor in an outdoor setting held in the K of C Park on Dexter Road June 2, at 1 p.m.

On June 3, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Mericle of Denton Road were in Lancaster, Ohio, where they attended the Lancaster Old Car Club, Inc., 16th annual Spring Festival held at the Fairfield County Fairgrounds.

Among the many who attended the Grand Conclave of the Grand Commandry Knights Templar of Michigan held at Ann Arbor May 31, June 1 and 2 were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Grover of South Huron Road, Mr. and Mrs. Walter James of Clay Road and Vincent Goodnuff of Alva Drive. The ladies attended the luncheon held in the Grand Ball Room at Weber's Inn for the wives of the Grand Officers on Friday.

Silver wedding observed

It has been 25 years for Roy and Maxine Adams of South Biggs, Belleville, who observed their silver wedding anniversary June 12. The couple — she is the former Maxine Webb — exchanged their "I do's" on June 12, 1954, at Trinity Episcopal Church in Belleville. They are the parents of two sons, Randy and Darel, and have lived in Belleville community for 10 years. Adams, an employee of the General Motors Assembly Division in Ypsilanti, enjoys hunting, fishing and reading in his spare time. Mrs. Adams, who had worked at Ford Motor Co. in Ypsilanti, includes crocheting, reading, embroidery, plant care and gardening among her hobbies.

Honoree missing from stork shower

A cradle shower at which the honoree was unexpectedly missing was held June 2 at the Elwell Road home of Flo Hudge with Mary Anne Hudge of Ann Arbor as co-hostess.

The eleven o'clock brunch planned in honor of Luanne Schonfeld of Evanston, Ill., turned out to be a "show and tell" party since the guest of honor was not present to do so herself. Having delivered her baby son, Matthew Jeffrey, three weeks early she was home lullabying rather than partying.

Each guest, who'd been asked to bring her gift unwrapped, held up her purchase and later-wrapped and ribboned the package for delivery to Evanston. The 24 attending arrived from Lewisville, Tex., Imlay City, Ann Arbor, Tecumseh, Ypsilanti, Canton and Belleville.

Judy Sayre, Nora Hudge, Sue and Carol Smith assisted with serving. The green plants, which centered the four calico draped tables, were won by Marian Paulsen of Ypsilanti; Miriam Schonfeld of Imlay City; Nora Hudge of Ann Arbor and Gladys Baldwin of Belleville.

Joey wins title

Joey Gilkerson, the 10-year-old daughter of Joe and Bernice Gilkerson of 413 Rustic Lane East, Belleville, was crowned "Little Miss Michigan" at the Michigan State finals held June 2 at Eastern Michigan University by the North American Production Pageant. This qualifies Joey to compete in the national event which will be held July 16 - 20 in Louisville, Ky. for the title of Little Miss North America. Joey is a fifth grade student at Lincoln Elementary School and also is active in dance at the American Dance Academy in Garden City where she studies ballet and other types of dancing. Her ambition is to someday dance with the New York Ballet Company.

MR. AND MRS.
WILLIAM S. KINCELLA

Kincella-Sparrow married in Willis

A week-long honeymoon at Niagara Falls followed the recent marriage of Deborah Ann Sparrow and William Steven Kincella. The young couple, who exchanged wedding bands and nuptial vows at the United Methodist Church of Willis, are now making their home at 12 Birch, Belleville.

The May 5 ceremony, conducted by The Rev. Norman Chather, united the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Sparrow of 9715 Bunton Rd., Willis, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Kincella of Borgman St., Belleville.

Sharon Chie was organist for the occasion and the bride's cousin, Karin Sparrow, was soloist.

Attendants for the spring rite were Stacy Cox of Willis, the maid of honor; Georgia Kincella of Belleville, the bridegroom's sister who was bridesmaid; Jeff Kincella of Belleville, who served as his brother's best man; and Kenneth Kincella of Belleville, uncle of the bridegroom and Bob Sparrow and Tom Sparrow, brothers of the bride, who were ushers, Pat Kincella carried out the role of ringbearer at his brother's wedding.

Some 200 guests gathered at the Oddfellow Hall of Belleville for the reception which followed.

A graduate of Lincoln High School, the new Mrs. Kincella attends Washtenaw Community College and works as a secretary at High Point Vocational Services in Ann Arbor. Her bridegroom, an alumnus of Belleville High School, is employed at the Chevrolet Spring and Bumper Plant in Livonia.

Try fresh strawberries in pies, sundaes

If your family loves strawberry sundaes and craves strawberry pies try this quick, easy dessert that combines the best of both. A crisp, whole cookie crust adds pleasing crunch to the layers of ice cream and berry-packed sauce. This strawberry dessert is guaranteed to satisfy the wildest of strawberry cravings.

STRAWBERRY SUNDAE PIE

1½ dozen 2-inch crisp cookies or shortbread
1 quart vanilla ice cream, softened
2 pints fresh strawberries
One-third cup sugar
2 tablespoons cornstarch
2 tablespoons lemon juice

Line 9-inch pie plate with cookies, halving cookies as needed to fit sides and bottom. Gently spread ice cream in crust; freeze. To make sauce, crush one pint berries; combine in saucepan with sugar and cornstarch. Cook and stir over medium heat until mixture begins to thicken. Stir in lemon juice; continue cooking until thick and clear, 3 to 4 minutes. Chill. Halve remaining pint berries; fold into sauce. To serve pie: spoon strawberry sauce over ice cream. Garnish with a sprig of mint, if desired. Cut wedges with a sharp knife. Makes 8 servings.

This Basket of Berries in honor of spring is as colorful as it is delicious. It is equally good for brunch or dessert. And if you have young cooks in your kitchen who are anxious to develop their culinary expertise, it is a fun project made to order.

FRESH STRAWBERRY PIE

1 9-inch baked pie shell
¾ cup sugar
2 tablespoons cornstarch
2 tablespoons white corn syrup
1 cup water
2 tablespoons strawberry gelatin powder
1 quart fresh whole strawberries, trimmed and washed
Mix the sugar, cornstarch, syrup and water together. Bring to a boil and cook until thick and clear. Add the gelatin powder, stirring until dissolved. Cool. Arrange the whole strawberries to cover the bottom of the baked pie shell. Pour the gelatin mixture over the strawberries and chill until set.

OLD FASHIONED STRAWBERRY SODA

2 pints fresh strawberries, crushed
1½ cups sugar
2 tablespoons lemon juice
Vanilla ice cream
Chilled soda water

In saucepan, combine berries and sugar. Bring to boil; cook, stirring, over medium heat, until sugar has dissolved and mixture thickens slightly, about 5 minutes. Cool; stir in lemon juice. Store in covered container in refrigerator. To make each soda: blend ¼ cup chilled strawberry sauce with a tablespoonful of ice cream in bottom of tall soda glass. Top with a generous scoop of ice cream; gradually pour in soda water to fill. Serve with spoon and straw. Makes 3 cups sauce; enough for 12 sodas.

A BASKET OF BERRIES

Nine 4-inch frozen waffle squares
1 package (8 ounces) cream cheese, softened
2 tablespoons milk
2 pints fresh strawberries, washed, stemmed and dried
½ cup strawberry jelly, melted
Powdered sugar
Toast waffles following package directions; cool on rack. In mixing bowl, beat cream cheese, gradually adding milk; beat just until smooth. To assemble each basket you will need 3 waffle squares. Spread one side of each square with whipped cream cheese. Place one waffle on serving plate for basket bottom; cut remaining 2 waffles in halves. Stand halves around bottom to form a box, spreading seams with additional cheese as needed. Repeat with remaining

Garden Club ends season

A walk through the woods at Oakwood Metro Park was the highlight of the June meeting of the Van Buren Garden Club. Guided by a member of the Metro Park Service, the group identified many wild flowers and learned new things about the plants.

At the business session held at the home of Mrs. Thomas Russell, reports were read concerning the Michigan Convention of Federated Garden Clubs. The Sears Civic Award for Community Service was presented to the Belleville club at that time for their work at the Fred C. Fischer Public Library.

Members also voted to hold a calendar sale next fall as a money raising project. The planning committee will meet on June 26 at the home of Mrs. Joseph Horsté. There will be no meetings in July or August.

The meeting was adjourned to the Red Apple Restaurant where the group lunched together before making the trip to Oakwood Park.

Census Bureau alert

The U.S. Bureau of the Census is accepting applications for a temporary Public Information Coordinator in the Detroit Regional Office to help inform the public about the 1980 census.

The position's salary range is $19,263 to $23,087. The job is scheduled to last from about July 1, 1979 through Sept. 30, 1980. Census Day is April 1, 1980.

Primary duties for the Public Information Coordinator include contacting the news media regarding the operations of the 1980 census and supervising three Census Information Technicians who will be located in other metropolitan centers in the region. The Detroit region includes Michigan and Ohio.

Persons interested in applying for the position should contact David Forbes, Regional Census Manager, U.S. Bureau of the Census, 144 W. Lafayette, 10th Floor, Room 1034, Detroit 48226, or call (313) 226-3821.

The Census Bureau is an equal opportunity employer.

Mental retardation is a condition, often congenital, in which normal development fails to take place as an infant grows older. It should not be confused with mental illness, which is a disorder of thinking and emotion, and which may occur at almost any age, in normal people.

IF IT'S NOT YOUR BAG...

Not everything is! So if you've invested in a set of golf clubs... or a boat... or tennis rackets... skis... backpack or camping equipment which you aren't using, why not sell it for cash?

Other people are interested in acquiring the sports equipment you're not using... and it's easy to get in touch with them through the Classified ads in your newspaper.

Just give us a call. We'll help you word and place a low-cost, cash-getting ad.
